NEWS SUMMARY

WASHINGTON.

Consular report received from the Klondike says the gold output this season will exceed that of last year.—Page 10.

DOMESTIC.

The house will vote on the Philippine government bill on Wednesday and the senate will dispose of the isthmian canal measure on Thursday.—Page 10.

Commencement week opens with baccalaureate sermons in many colleges.—Page 6.

The troubles of Theodore E. Burton, the Cleveland congressman, started when he espoused the cause of ex-Mayor McKisson on the ground of party regularity.—Page 2.

FOREIGN.

A question of drinking etiquette is likely to plunge native chiefs of Tutuila into civil war.—Page 5.

A native report says five American prisoners were boloed in Luzon.—Page 1.

King Edward's exposure to a cold rain brought on an attack of chills and lumbago.—Page 1.

In a speech to Boers Gen. De Wet advised them to be loyal to their new government, as the result of the war was the will of God.—Page 2.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Democratic primaries in Westmoreland county expected to develop a fight at the convention today.—Page 10.

A mine watchman lies unconscious in a Scranton hospital as a result of a mysterious shooting.—Page 1.

Harry W. Ricer of New Castle kills Mrs. Rachel B. Sahler and himself at Coatesville.—Page 1.

LOCAL.

Col. J. M. Guffey will be in control of the Erie Democratic state convention. So far he has not indicated his choice for governor, but it is thought he will finally give the nomination to Robert E. Pattison.—Page 1.

The new Mifflin township United Presbyterian church was dedicated yesterday. The services were interesting, recalling memories of the 100 years the church has been in existence, it being a "pioneer" religious body in Western Pennsylvania.—Page 7.

Bridgeville, this county, was the scene of an exciting riot yesterday afternoon in which one man, a Russian storekeeper, was probably fatally shot. The riot was caused by negro laborers from the Wabash line, who were after more whisky. A posse of citizens made several arrests.—Page 2.

The public school children of Pittsburgh and Allegheny and the borough and township schools of the county have this year contributed $2,118 65 to the support of the Hospital Saturday and Sunday association, which is over $500 better than they ever did before.—Page 3.

Six thousand people attended the first open-air services of the season, conducted in Schenley park last evening by the Rev. S. Edward Young. The music was furnished by four cornetists and a trained choir.—Page 7.

Pittsburgh was the hottest city in the state yesterday. The temperature reached 90 degrees and remained at this high point most of the day. The weather man promises more of the same today.—Page 1.

The Rev. Dr. Robert M. Russell, pastor of the Sixth United Presbyterian church, East End, delivered a scholarly baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class of the Western University of Pennsylvania yesterday morning.—Page 7.

Pittsburgh's health officials issue a proclamation notifying citizens that a house-to-house canvass will be begun shortly, and that all who are found not to be vaccinated will be forced to submit to vaccination. More cases of smallpox were discovered yesterday.—Page 1.

The two new Pennsylvania railroad 20-hour trains reached Union station last night after record runs. The westbound train arrived exactly on the dot, after maintaining a speed of 95 miles the hour for four miles. The eastbound train made up 15 minutes of time lost near Wooster, O., but was two minutes late.—Page 2.

In the past 24 hours another long list of sudden deaths, most of them accidental, has been reported for the coroner's investigation.—Page 2.

SPORTING.

Fifteen horses may start in the Great American Derby at Chicago next Saturday. Heno is the betting favorite at odds of 3 to 1.—Page 6.

Lajoie falls off in batting and Cleveland American league team loses to Boston.—Page 6.

Champions spend a quiet Sunday in Boston. Tannehill will probably pitch today.—Page 6.

AT THE MOTHER CHURCH.

Christian Scientists Gather at Boston—Mrs. Eddy Vetoes Pilgrimage.

BOSTON, MASS., June 15.—(Special.)—Beginning tomorrow the annual meeting of the Christian Science church, the "mother church, Boston," will be held here. Already thousands of Christian Scientists have arrived here to participate in the meeting and to be admitted to membership in the "mother church," while thousands more are on the way and will reach here tomorrow morning. Members of the church are present from various foreign lands, including Mrs. Mattie Limjome of Melbourne, Australia; Baroness Olga von Beschwitz and Fraulein E. E. Boese of Berlin; Mrs. Jessie Lumsden and Mrs. Mabel S. Thorpson, the latter first reader of the London church, Mrs. Frances Barkman Curry of the Bahamas, and Mrs. Livingston Mims, wife of the mayor of Atlanta, Ga., and the leading Christian Scientists of the south, with many others.

A big Pittsburgh delegation arrived day, but has not yet had time to register, as services were held in Mechanics' hall, with communion, which all members of the faith attended.

Mrs. Eddy will not attend the meeting this year and has requested her followers to omit the pilgrimage to Concord, as she did not wish the custom to be construed as a sacramental ceremony of the church.

Meet at Johnstown Next.

READING, PA., June 15.—The German-American Alliance of Pennsylvania closed its sessions here tonight after deciding to meet in Johnstown next June. A portion of the day was devoted to a banquet at the Highland house and a social session at the Turners' County club house. Resolutions were adopted pledging the alliance as an organization not to indulge in party politics, but reserving the right to enter politics whenever its principles are politically attacked.

GUTHRIE ONE OF THE ERIE PLANK MAKERS

At a Sunday Conference in Atlantic City He Assists in the Building of the Democratic Platform.

CONGRESSMAN J. K. P. HALL NO LONGER A CANDIDATE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Atlantic City, N. J., June 15.—At a conference here today of Democrats from all over Pennsylvania the platform to be adopted by the Erie convention next week was agreed upon. It is to be confined chiefly to state issues.

George W. Guthrie of Pittsburgh, who has dreams of being the Democratic nominee for governor, was one of the men at the conference. He insisted that ballot reform and personal registration be made the leading planks of the platform. From what could be learned from those here today it is probable that Guthrie has had more to do with the building of the platform than he will with the naming of the ticket that is to stand upon it.

Congressman J. K. P. Hall of Ridgway took occasion to announce that he would not be a candidate for governor. He had intended to knock the head out of his barrel had John P. Elkin been nominated by the Republicans last week.

Hall Is Not Hopeful.

Since the selection of Pennypacker he cannot see much hope of Democratic success this fall and has no desire to spend time and money in a fruitless attempt to break into office. Hall is in perfect accord with Col. J. M. Guffey and will do whatever he wants. Hall was brought out by the Philadelphians at the state committee meeting held in Harrisburg last April. The friends of ex-Judge James Gay Gordon of Philadelphia launched his boom then in the hope that he would be able to prevent a number of interior counties from instructing for ex-Gov. Robert E. Pattison. Had Hall continued in the field he would have had the votes of Westmoreland, Elk, Erie, Cameron, Clearfield and a number of western and northwestern counties. These delegations are now free and they will no doubt follow the leadership of Col. Guffey, with whom Hall is working. The withdrawal of the congressman is looked upon as a help to Pattison.

Guthrie Still Stands.

Guthrie is still in the race. He looks upon Pattison as his most formidable opponent. Here it is the opinion that one of them will be the nominee of the Erie convention, but the stock of Pattison is looked upon as more likely to keep ascending between now and the meeting in Erie on June 28.

Those present at the conference were Dallas Sanders of Philadelphia, who acted as chairman of the meeting, William J. Brennen of Pittsburgh, John J. Green, attorney for the Philadelphia city committee; former State Chairman Stranahan of Harrisburg, former State Chairman John S. Rilling of Erie, Robert E. Wright of Allentown, George W. Guthrie of Pittsburgh, Charles F. Donnelly, city chairman of Philadelphia; Congressman J. K. P. Hall of Ridgway and former State Chairman James Kerr of Clearfield, one of the owners of the Philadelphia Record. It was expected that Chairman William T. Creasy and former Senator P. Gray Meek of Bellefonte would participate in the conference, but they were unable to be present.

All State Issues.

Various measures having to do with the ballot reform, personal registration and primary election laws were discussed and the general outline of the plank in the Democratic state platform dealing with ballot reform was drafted. Members of the conference stated that it was a concrete, unambiguous declaration.

After the meeting this evening Chairman Sanders said:

"We decided to draft a personal registration bill and ballot reform bill that will follow in a general way the old Guffey ballot bill. Also a primary election bill providing for a uniform primary election system. We will recommend to the Democratic state convention the adoption of a plank favoring such ballot reform, but without binding the party down to any particular bill. We decided also to request all legislative candidates and nominees to indorse the passage of such measures in the interest of reform."

George W. Guthrie thinks the outlook for a Democratic victory in Pennsylvania next fall is very promising. Ballot reform has been one of his chief hobbies, and he is very hopeful that an adequate bill will pass the next legislature.

WINNER AT ERIE MEET IS NOT AGREED UPON

Guthrie and Pattison Are the Leading Candidates for the Democratic Gubernatorial Nomination.

In less than 10 days the Democrats of the state will meet in convention at Erie to nominate a governor, lieutenant governor and secretary of internal affairs. There will be 314 delegates in the body. Nearly all of them have been elected, but at present none of the many candidates for first place has anything like enough instructed votes to win. Col. James M. Guffey of Pittsburgh is in absolute control of the situation and the man he wants will be nominated. Many people think he will designate ex-Gov. Robert E. Pattison of Philadelphia.

There is every promise that the Erie convention will be one of the largest in the history of the party. Most Democrats and laboring under the hallucination that there is a chance for Democracy to win this year. This hope has not been so strong since the action of the Republican convention last week. The Democrats wanted John P. Elkin to secure the nomination, and they worked and rooted for him wherever the opportunity presented itself. Democrats are always more or less hopeful, so they will go to Erie in great numbers, fight, nominate a ticket, build a platform and talk of success all through the summer and fall, and then wonder what hit them in November.

Guffey Has Been Discreet.

Col. Guffey has been careful not to go to the assistance of any particular candidate. He has never intimated that he had a choice and it will be interesting to see whether he can hold this position for another week. Of course, in the wind-up his hand will finally be shown.

The local Democrats are hopeful of nominating George W. Guthrie. He has been in the field since the February election, but there is no evidence that he has gathered a great deal of strength. The 15 delegates from this county will support him, but they are not tied down to remain with him to a finish. He also has a delegate from Indiana and may possibly be able to pick up some votes in Beaver, Lawrence and Washington counties.

Guthrie will have plenty of rooters at Erie. A special train carrying between 400 and 500 will leave Pittsburgh the day before the convention. The candidate will have his headquarters at the Reed house and the advance guard will probably go on Saturday.

Pattison Strong in the Country.

Ex-Gov. Pattison is getting his strength in the country districts. Guthrie will get this county, and it is altogether probable that Pattison will be unable to control Philadelphia. Ex-Judge James Gay Gordon is expected to have the delegation from the Quaker City. Pattison's friends have been leaving the big cities alone and doing their harvesting in the rural counties. Some people say that this plan has the approval of Col. Guffey, but there is nothing to back up this assertion.

Westmoreland county, Col. Guffey's own, is pretending friendship for Congressman J. K. P. Hall of Elk. It is with the understanding, however, that if Hall is not in the race the delegation can do as it pleases. Pattison now has 64 pledged votes. He needs 104 additional delegates to elect, but the man who will control the convention can find that many if necessary.

VACCINATION WILL BE MADE COMPULSORY

Health Officials Issue Important Proclamation to Citizens.

EVERY HOUSE IS TO BE VISITED

A proclamation inaugurating compulsory vaccination was issued by the Pittsburgh bureau of health yesterday, signed by A. J. Pitcairn, superintendent of the bureau; Dr. B. A. Booth and Dr. E. G. Matson, physicians. It is as follows:

By virtue of authority granted to the bureau of health of cities of the second class, by section 27, act of assembly No. 258, all persons within the limits of the city of Pittsburgh are hereby required to be vaccinated against smallpox within a period commencing with the publication of this order, and ending on the 10th of July, 1902, provided that all people living within a distance of approximately 200 yards, as determined by the bureau of health of any place in which a person suffering from smallpox, including varioloid, shall be found, are required to be vaccinated on the day the nature of the disease is determined on and reported by the attending physician or the physicians of the bureau of health; and further, provided that all persons within the limits of the city of Pittsburgh who have been associated with a person sick with smallpox, including varioloid, in any way commonly believed to favor the communication of that disease shall be required to be vaccinated on the day the fact of such exposure is ascertained.

Persons unable to pay will be vaccinated gratuitously at the public safety building, No. 431 Sixth avenue, and by officers of the bureau of health, who may visit their neighborhood for the purpose.

Dr. Booth said the physicians of the department of charities have been vaccinating all who request it for the past two weeks, and a record has been kept of all such. It is the intention to make a house to house canvass after July 16, the date fixed in the proclamation, to see if the edict has been obeyed.

Three more cases of smallpox were taken to the Municipal hospital yesterday. John Roney of No. 77 Tustin street was taken there in the afternoon. He has been ill with the disease for several days.

William Matthews of No. 27 Jones avenue went to the West Penn hospital yesterday and said that he was suffering from typhoid fever. Upon examination the house physicians discovered smallpox and City Physician B. A. Booth was notified. He was removed to the city infirmary.

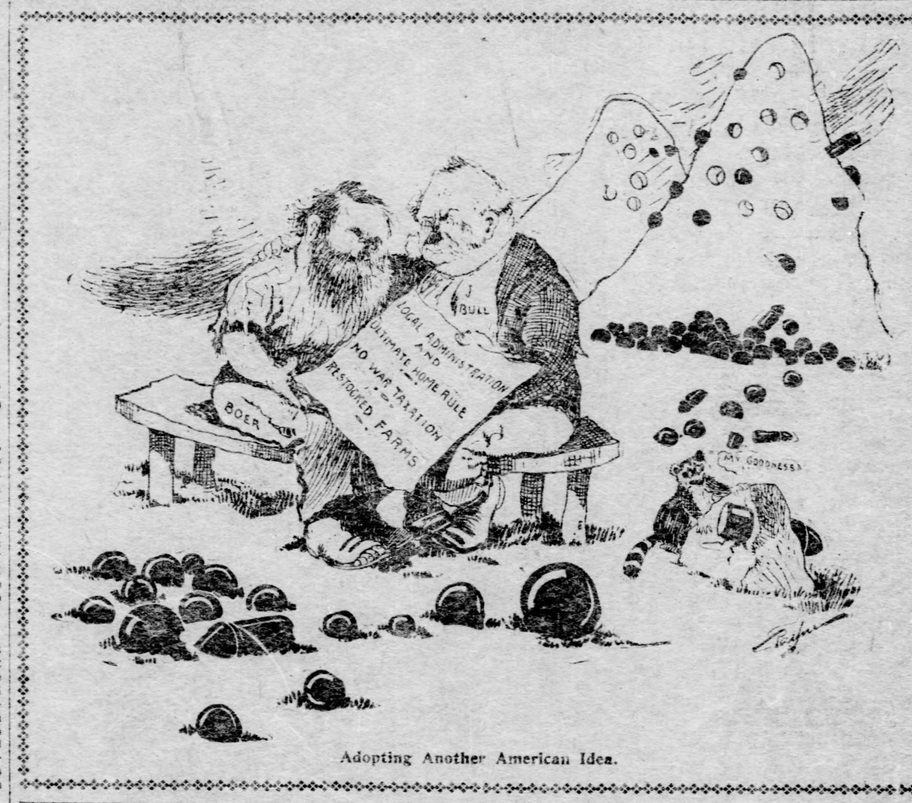
The health officers experienced considerable difficulty in having 7-months'-old Mary Park removed from her home at No. 4054 Laurel avenue. Dr. Booth was compelled to send in a riot call before he could get the infant in the ambulance. She is an Italian child and her parents objected to her being taken away.

Dr. Booth found this patient in the morning, but as he was alone he was unable to have the child taken from the house. He went to No. 5 police station and secured an officer, who accompanied him back to the house. He also sent word for the hospital ambulance. When he arrived at the house he found the parents were determined the child should not leave. Five policemen responded to the riot call, but before they arrived the parents decided to let their child go. The mother accompanied the infant.

Dr. Booth said last night that citizens must have their servants vaccinated along with members of their families. Owing to this neglect on the part of several East End families they are now in quarantine in their homes. They had the members of their families vaccinated, but paid no attention to their servants. Those servants contracted the disease and are now in the Municipal hospital.

He said that parents should also be careful and have their infant children vaccinated. He said they were disposed to avoid this owing to the suffering the child was compelled to undergo. At the present time there are 37 children in the Municipal hospital under 7 years of age.

Most all children over 7 years of age attend school and are compelled to be vaccinated. At the present time there are 110 patients at the Municipal hospital. In addition to this there are 130 persons in quarantine throughout the city. This year 300 patients have been admitted and treated in the Municipal hospital.



Adopting Another American Idea.

MINE WATCHMAN IS UNCONSCIOUS, SHOT IN BREAST

May Have Been Mistaken by a Fellow Deputy for a Striker.

ANOTHER MAN FIRED ON

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Scranton, Pa., June 15.—About 1 o'clock this morning a watchman at the Delaware & Hudson company's No. 2 colliery in Olyphant found a fellow watchman, Charles Robinson, lying under a freight car, unconscious and with a bullet hole in his right breast. He was taken to the Lackawanna hospital in this city and is still unconscious.

How he received his wound is a mystery. The company officials have offered a reward of $1,000 for information that will lead to the detection of the person who fired the shot. One theory is that Robinson scrambled under the car to be sheltered from the rain and was shot by some fellow policeman, who mistook him for a striker.

Earlier in the night a Hungarian was fired upon by two coal and iron policemen at this colliery. The Hungarian was cutting firewood on the company's property when a policeman fired a shot to scare him away. As he was fleeing another policeman, who had heard the shot and supposed the fugitive had fired it, began peppering at him with a revolver. It is thought possibly he was hit and that his friends returned and ambushed Robinson.

The two policemen who fired on the Hungarian were arrested by Chief of Police McKenna. They gave bail for a hearing tomorrow.

MAJORITY AGAINST TAFT.

Only Cardinal Vannutelli of the Sub-Commission on His Side.

ROME, June 15.—It is understood that except Cardinal Vannutelli, the other four members of the sub-commission of cardinals which will examine the propositions presented to the Vatican by William H. Taft, civil governor of the Philippine Islands, in connection with ecclesiastical affairs in the archipelago, are in favor of the regulation of the church in the Philippines in the same manner as obtained when the islands were under Spanish sovereignty.

The cardinals' sub-commission includes three of the leading candidates for succession to the papacy, Cardinal Rampolla, the papal secretary of state, and Cardinals Vannutelli and Gotti.

TWO CONVICTS ESCAPE.

Stroudsburg Jail Door Easy for Men Charged With Murder.

STROUDSBURG, PA., June 15.—Charles Grether and Benjamin Aiello, convicted murderers, escaped from the Monroe county jail here this morning. A posse is in pursuit. It is believed the men separated, as Grether has been traced as far as the woods at North Water Gap.

The cell doors, it is said, were faulty and while the watchman was in another part of the building the men walked out of their cells and unbolting the outside iron door passed out of the building.

Too Hot for Any Use.

THIS WAS THE HOTTEST CITY IN THE STATE

Temperature Reached 90 and Stood There Most of the Day.

WEATHER MAN HAS NO RELIEF IN SIGHT

Pittsburgh was the hottest town in Pennsylvania yesterday.

It was the hottest Sunday of the year, and many of the ministers "cut off" their sermons a bit, just to relieve the worshipers. Home they went, and there it was hot; in many homes it was most uncomfortably so. By noon the temperature reached its highest pitch at 90 degrees.

Old Sol was in all his glory, blazing away, while the poor mortals beneath him became sluggish, and longed for some cool spot on which to lay the weary head. In the tenement and slum districts the heat told on the little ones. Although no prostrations were reported, this is due principally to the fact that not many were engaged at extremely hard work.

The two points that gave a bit of relief were the parks and the soda fountains. The latter had a glorious day of it. There were no blue law sharps to stop the sizzing and the sipping. There was a temporary relief in a lemon phosphate, or some of the other compounds of the soda fountain druggist. There is a bouquet for any compounder of the temperance beverages who can swear on a stack of Bibles that he didn't do a "rushin'" business, even if it was Sunday.

"There's a consolation," said some wag at one of the fountains, "to know that even the man who help's to keep you cool at your expense is not a whit cooler than yourself."

In the middle of the day the parks proved but little comfort for Sol's rays. About 3 o'clock, however, there was a sudden fall in the temperature, caused by a heavy shower, and the breathing spots of the city became so many gardens of delight. With the fall came a gentle breeze from the rivers and for a time morials were glad. But old Sol was not to be outdone. He began to show all his strength in his last few hours, and succeeded in making it hot again. The temperature rose to 87.

Towards evening thousands found comfort in jumping on a car and riding along the beautiful stretches of rural fields down the Monongahela valley and out to Point Breeze.

The hottest place in the country was Abilene, Tex., the temperature reaching 102. The coolest was in the extreme northwest. According to the weather man old Sol will make things hot today, and even try to outdo his record of yesterday.

OIL TANKS DESTROYED IN A SEVERE STORM

Lightning Plays Havoc and Causes Heavy Losses in District Around Oil City.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

OIL CITY, PA., June 15.—A severe storm passed over the oil region early this morning, entailing heavy losses to oil interests. At Tiona a tank containing 13,000 barrels of crude oil was struck by lightning and the tank and contents entirely consumed. This oil is quoted at $1 35 a barrel.

At Kane a tank containing 25,000 barrels was struck. The tank is near a pump station and the employes pumped the oil from the burning tank and drowned out the flames with steam, saving the tank.

Both tanks were owned by the National Transit Company. The losses will be apportioned among the holders of certificates, necessitating a general average, the first in over a year.

Two Deaths from Heat.

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 15.—(Special.)—Two foreigners died here from sunstrokes within the past 24 hours. Andrew Romane dropped dead last night while returning from work. He arrived here from Italy only four days ago. Dennis Mosian Armenian, died but a few hours previous under almost similar circumstances. Neither had any relatives in this country.

AMERICAN SOLDIER PRISONERS BOLOED TO DEATH IN LUZON

Alleged Massacre of Five Men, but Not Confirmed by Authorities. Surrenders in Samar.

MOROS ASKING FOR FLAGS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Manila, June 15.—Friendly natives in Manila say a report is current among their countrymen that the five soldiers of the Fifth cavalry who were captured by the insurgents May 30 have been boloed to death near Teresa, in Morong province, Luzon. This has not been confirmed by the American authorities of that district.

Twenty-five members of a band of insurgents who were captured while fighting with Gen. Lukban in Samar took the oath of allegiance to the United States, and were subsequently released. Four members of the band were killed in the engagement which resulted in the capture of their companions. The 25 who have sworn allegiance have seen Gen. Chaffee and have promised to give him all the assistance in their power in the work of maintaining the present peace conditions in Samar.

A commission has been sent to Samar to appoint Senor Llorentes governor of the island and to establish civil government there. It is expected that a general amnesty will be declared July 4. This amnesty will result in the release of the Filipino prisoners now in Guam.

The prospects in Leyte for a speedy termination of the armed resistance there are bright. Since the ports of the islands were closed surrenders of insurgents to the native constabulary have occurred daily.

Gen. Davis, commander of the American forces on the island of Mindanao, has been informed by Datto Ada that two of the three Moros who murdered the American soldier named Lewis were killed in the engagement at Bazan between Moros and Americans last May, and that the other murderer has disappeared.

An American sentry belonging to the engineers was badly cut with a bolo in the hands of a Moro while on duty near Vicars.

Several dattos under the sultan of Mindanao have called upon Col. Frank D. Baldwin of the Twenty-seventh infantry and have asked him for American flags. This action on the part of the dattos is considered equivalent to taking the oath of allegiance to the United States.

VICE PRESIDENTS ADDED.

Railway Steel Spring Co. of America Enlarges Its Executive Committee.

The Railway Steel Spring Company of America has added two of its vice presidents to the executive committee, which on the organization of the company, in February, had only three members. The new members are Frank S. Layng, first vice president and former president of the Pickering Spring Company, Limited, of Philadelphia, and Charles Scott, Jr., second vice president, and former head of the Charles Scott Spring Company of Philadelphia.

The board as now constituted includes three vice presidents, Julius E. French, formerly of Pittsburgh; Frank B. Smith of Pittsburgh, who organized the spring company and was offered its presidency, and Truman H. Newberry of Detroit, Mich. Frank B. Smith returned here yesterday from the meeting in New York which made the change.

KING EDWARD HAS A CHILL AND LUMBAGO

Caused by Exposure to Cold and Rain While Reviewing With the Queen a Torchlight Procession at Aldershot.

HIS ILLNESS NOT SERIOUS, SAYS THE COURT PHYSICIAN

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, June 15.—King Edward today is suffering from a slight chill, which has prevented him from attending today's church parade of the Aldershot garrison. The chill came as a result of the king's prolonged stay outdoors last night on the occasion of the torchlight tattoo at Aldershot. The chill is accompanied by symptoms of lumbago.

The weather last night was cold, and it rained at intervals before their majesties left the brigade recreation ground. King Edward returned to his apartments chilled from the unwonted exposure.

An authentic statement from Aldershot this evening is that King Edward is slightly indisposed, but that his indisposition is not of a serious nature.

Sir Francis Laking, physician in ordinary to his majesty, was summoned to Aldershot early this morning. He prescribed for the king and recommended that today be spent in perfect quietude.

Queen Alexandra and the other members of the royal party attended the service at church, but remained in the royal apartments for the rest of the day.

It has been learned that the king arose this afternoon. This is considered a good reason for hoping that his indisposition is only temporary.

The Court Circular tonight publishes the following official announcement: "King Edward was unable to leave his room today owing to an attack of lumbago caused by a chill."

Sir Francis Laking was in attendance upon the king tonight and found him much better. The latest expectation is that King Edward will be able to attend the review today.

King Edward's indisposition was announced too late to become generally known in London, but considering the near approach of the coronation it is bound to cause anxiety.

It is understood that the king is "run down" to some extent as a result of his constant attention during the past few weeks to numerous state duties and obligations; and in spite of the hope expressed at Aldershot last night that he would be able to attend the review of troops to be held there today, it is more than likely that Sir Francis Laking will forbid his majesty to run any further risk, especially as the weather continues to be cold and rainy. Sir Francis probably will enjoin the king to rest for another day.

ONE WOMAN'S NO ENDS IN DEATH OF TWO PERSONS

Harry W. Ricer of New Castle Kills Coatesville Widow and Himself.

ENGAGED TO WED COLUMBUS, O., GIRL

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Coatesville, Pa., June 15.—His love rejected, Harry W. Ricer, aged 27, shot and killed Mrs. Rachel B. Sahler, a widow, aged 32, and then sent a bullet through his own head at Miss Mary Ernest's boarding house in East Main street, about 6 o'clock this morning. Both died almost instantly.

Ricer, whose home is at New Castle, was employed by the McClintock & Marshall Construction Company of Pottstown, and was a bridge builder. He worked here as assistant superintendent for the company two years ago, when he became acquainted with Mrs. Sahler. He called on her frequently, and after leaving kept up an irregular correspondence.

He arrived here Friday and went to one of the hotels. Yesterday, in company with several companions, he visited the hotel bar and drank heavily. Mrs. Sahler was employed at the department store of W. W. Mast, in Main street. When she was through at the store last night Ricer escorted her to her boarding house, owned by the Misses Lang. These ladies are visiting in the country, so that Mrs. Sahler, the only boarder, was the lone occupant of the premises.

The two entered. About 12 o'clock Mrs. Sahler left the house and went to the home of Miss Mary Ernest, a few doors away where she had been taking her meals. To Miss Ernest she said that Ricer was drunk, and that she was afraid to be alone with him. She had requested him to leave and go to his hotel, but he refused. Mrs. Sahler spent the remainder of the night with Miss Ernest. This morning, about 6 o'clock, the two went to the Lang residence and tried to arouse Ricer. They had some trouble in getting him to the front door, and when he opened it he was fully dressed. He invited them in, and then followed a wrangle about Ricer staying in the house. Turning to Mrs. Sahler he said:

"What is your answer to what I asked you last night?"

"It always was no; is now, and always will be no," replied Mrs. Sahler.

Finding that Ricer would not leave the house Mrs. Sahler and Miss Ernest started to go. Ricer was then standing in the hallway, near the door leading to the porch. Mrs. Sahler passed in front of him and was just on the floor sill when Ricer drew a revolver and fired a bullet into the widow's back between the shoulders, a little to the right side of the spinal column. The woman screamed and cried, Miss Ernest exclaimed:

"You brute," and then sprang forward and caught Mrs. Sahler before she fell. No sooner had Ricer shot her than he turned the revolver on himself and sent a bullet crashing through his own brain.

Letters found in Ricer's pockets revealed the fact that he was to have been married to a Miss Alma Lowry of Columbus, Ohio, about October 1. There were about 15 of these letters, all in the most endearing terms.

DOES BRODIE ACT.

Man Jumps from the Brooklyn Bridge, but Fails to Swim to Shore.

NEW YORK, June 15.—A young man who was a passenger on a Brooklyn bridge car this evening suddenly left his seat and sprang over the bridge rail into the river below. The body has not been recovered. Those who noticed the man before he made the jump from the bridge say he was apparently about 27 years old and was well-dressed.

Policeman Dorn saw him alight from the car, and divining the stranger's purpose, started after him. The stranger said: "Don't you touch me," and then, crying out "Good-bye," went over the rail into the river. His body reappeared only once after the plunge.

OMINOUS SILENCE DOWN IN VENEZUELA.

State Department Can Get No Word from Minister Bowen—Censor Probably Concealing News.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 15.—Venezuela has been a sealed book to the United States for more than a week, although it is believed very important events in connection with the revolution and the threatened invasion from Colombia are occurring. Secretary Hay on Friday cabled Minister Bowen at Caracas for definite information, but up to tonight had received no reply. This delay is believed to be due not to cable interruptions, but to a censorship exercised over department messages.

If no information comes from Minister Bowen within the next 24 hours it is probable that either the Cincinnati or the Topeka, both of which are now coaled and ready for sea at San Juan, Porto Rico, will be headed for La Guayra with instructions from the navy department to investigate.

Practically no reliable news has come from Venezuela for two weeks. Such information as has found its way into the newspapers has lacked confirmation. One dispatch said President Castro had the revolution well in hand and declared he would not leave his capital, Caracas, until he went in his coffin. Another was that a revolution had broken out in the suburbs of La Guayra, the seaport of Caracas, and that the loyal fort on the mountainside above the town and the Venezuelan warships in the harbor had bombarded the city. Such an event, undoubtedly, would have been cabled by the minister at Caracas unless the message was stopped. Another report was that Matos, the revolutionary leader, had left Carupano and was marching on Caracas.

When to all this is added a message received at the state department a week ago that Colombia was massing her troops on the frontier and preparing for an invasion of Venezula in reprisal for the assistance that President Castro is alleged to have given the Colombian revolutionists, it is easy to understand the anxiety the state department has for news.

ALLEGED CONIACKERS CAUGHT IN BALTIMORE

Two Women and a Number of Italians Arrested and Paraphernalia Found.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

BALTIMORE, June 15.—United States secret service men, aided by local police, today captured eight Italians, supposed to be members of a gang of counterfeiters who have operated in several parts of the country during the past few months. The prisoners are Domilio de Marco, Frank de Marco, Tony de Marco and Martin de Marco, father and sons, and Cato Roccese, Louis Zimma and two women named Martil.

The De Marcos were arrested in their home at No. 911 East Lombard street, Roccese and Zimma were picked up on the street and the Martil women were found at their home, No. 912½ Eastern avenue. At each of the houses a quantity of metal and some counterfeiting paraphernalia were found, but no molds.

It is said that the prisoners are only a part of a crowd of suspects and a number of other arrests will shortly follow in nearby cities.

EARTHQUAKE IN SICILY.

Underground Rumblings Throw Inhabitants Into Panic.

SYRACUSE, SICILY, June 15.—Strong earthquake shocks, accompanied by a sound of underground rumblings, were experienced here last night. The inhabitants of Syracuse became panic-stricken.

For several days past the sky over Sicily has been overcast and the heat has been overpowering. Shocks of earthquake are reported from other parts of the island.

MURDERED AND ROBBED.

Harvey Ross of Uniontown Found Unconscious and Soon Dies.

UNIONTOWN, PA., June 15.—(Special.)—Harvey Ross was found this morning unconscious, with his head crushed and a deep gash across the forehead, lying in Eggers & Graham's lumber yard. He died without regaining consciousness.

He was waylaid, murdered and robbed. His pockets were pulled out and empty. When last seen, near midnight, he had $10 and was on his way home.

BURTON DRAWN INTO A FIGHT OF FACTIONS

His Efforts to Save McKisson on the Ground of Regularity, Hurting Him.

MADE HANNA MEN ANGRY

The Only Ohio Man Who Beat Tom L. Johnson at the Polls—Hanna Did Not Start Opposition to Him, But Stands by Friends.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.

Cleveland, O., June 15.—Congressman Theodore E. Burton, who has thrown down the gauntlet to Senator M. A. Hanna by refusing to remain on the ticket as the Republican candidate for re-election from the Twenty-first Ohio district, is now serving his fifth term as a representative of the district, which lies in the heart of Cleveland. To Mr. Burton, moreover, belongs the honor of being the only man who ever defeated Tom L. Johnson in a political contest. That was in 1901, after Mr. Johnson had served two terms in congress, having been elected as an out-and-out free trader from a district which owes as much to the fostering influence of the protective tariff, perhaps, as any other in the country. In that campaign Mr. Burton showed his marvelous skill as an organizer and master of details in a political contest.

Mr. Burton was born in Ashtabula county, O., in 1851. His education was obtained at Iowa college, Grinnell, Ia., and at Oberlin, O. He came to Cleveland in 1875 and began the practice of law here. He was successful in his profession, soon becoming counsel of a railroad company.

His Career in Politics.

His entrance in politics was as a member of the city council. In 1888 he was nominated and elected to the Fifty-first congress. His ability was soon recognized. He has always been essentially a student. In 1890, when the McKinley bill was being framed, he rendered valuable assistance to Mr. McKinley in searching out information needed by the chairman of the ways and means committee. His defeat for re-election in the fall of that year, when McKinley also met defeat, was a gerrymandered district, with 2,000 Democratic majority against him, was sincerely regretted by the business men of Cleveland.

He refused to run again in 1892 but two years later he was a candidate against his former antagonist, Mr. Johnson, and was elected handsomely. He has been re-elected three times since, the Democrats making but perfunctory opposition to him.

His progress toward leadership in the house has been as rapid as his victories have been easy, until now, as chairman of the committee on rivers and harbors, he is recognized as one of the best informed men who ever attempted to draw a bill making appropriations for the great maritime interests of the nation.

Mr. Burton was a wonder to politicians. When he went into a campaign he made it his business to know personally all the Republican workers in the wards and precincts of his district, and he could tell how each one of them stood, and what was to be expected of him in the way of results at the polls. He weighed every detail of his campaign and would do nothing if he doubted the advisability of it. His work was law to every member of his campaign committee, and he usually insisted upon having a committee of his own selection to act independently of the regular party committee.

Until 1900 Mr. Burton had the loyal and enthusiastic support of every Republican in his district. Then he became involved in the Hanna-McKisson factional quarrel. McKisson was a candidate for a third term as mayor. Many of his former Republican supporters had described him because of his attempt to defeat Hanna's election as senator a year before, and he needed all the help he could get. Mr. Burton was appealed to. The latter came home from Washington against the earnest protest of hundreds of his former friends and took the stump for McKisson. He urged the re-election of the mayor on the ground of regularity, and refused to listen to those who were advising against that course.

Hanna Men's Wrath.

McKisson went down to defeat in a political revolution that swept nearly all the Republican wards of the city into the Democratic column. Nevertheless, the next year the Republicans renominated Mr. Burton and re-elected him by a majority somewhat smaller than he had received before, but still big enough to be satisfactory. Since then there has been a feeling of soreness toward Mr. Burton on the part of some Republicans, mainly because the McKissonites, in gratitude for what he did for them, have assumed to look after his interests.

The present controversy, which has led to the threat of Mr. Burton to withdraw from the ticket, was precipitated by the former supporters of McKisson. Mr. Burton favored the election of Paul Howland as chairman of the county committee. He was put forward because he was not a factionist, it was said. But no sooner was he mentioned for the place than the old McKisson lieutenants claimed him as their candidate and began boasting what they would do. That, of course, was a challenge to the Hannaites. They accepted it, and put forward William P. Abel as their candidate for chairman, electing him without difficulty. Then Mr. Burton refused to go on with the campaign unless Abel resigned the chairmanship to which he was elected.

Peace commissioners are now at work, but the chances of restoring harmony are not very bright. It is possible that a compromise may be effected, but the Hanna people say Abel will not be permitted to resign, and Burton is still obdurate. Incidentally, Senator Hanna is being blamed, but he really had nothing to do with the selection of Abel for chairman. How, however, he approves what his lieutenants did. He always stands by his friends.

STEAMERS COLLIDE AND PANIC FOLLOWS

Women and Children, Crazed With Fright, Attempted to Jump Into the Bay.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 15.—With 1,000 passengers aboard coming from Coney Island the steamboat Cygnus was in collision early tonight with the steamboat Dimock, which had just arrived from Boston. It was a head-on collision, and the bow, deck and rails of the Cygnus were shattered. She was not seriously damaged below the water line and so escaped sinking.

A panic prevailed on the Cygnus at the moment of the collision, and after the women and children became hysterical with fear cool work on the part of the deckhands and male passengers was all that prevented many from jumping overboard. All of the passengers were landed safely at the Battery. The Dimock escaped with slight injury.

PANIC CAUSED BY LIGHTNING

THREE CHICAGO CHURCHES STRUCK AND ONE IS DESTROYED.

One Hundred Sunday School Children Badly Frightened, but All Are Rescued—One Man Killed During Storm, Many Others Are Shocked.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, June 15.—Chicago was visited by an electric storm this afternoon which wrought death, caused a panic among 100 Sunday school children and damaged considerable property. Three churches were struck by electric bolts, one of them, the Memorial German Episcopal, being destroyed.

Calvary Presbyterian, West Congress and Forty-second streets, was struck while the Sunday school services were being held. The bolt entered the steeple and tore through the ceiling, causing a panic among the children. The building caught fire, but all the children were rescued without serious injury.

During the storm lightning demolished one of the steeples of the Lady of Sorrows church, Jackson boulevard and Albany avenue.

Joseph Killian, while resting in a fisherman's hut on the shore of Lake Calumet, was killed by lightning, and in different parts of the city while the storm was in progress, many other persons received shocks.

WAS NOT IRREGULAR.

An Attempt to Stir Up a Sensation in the Eleventh Ward School Board Is a Failure.

An attempt has been made to cause a sensation in Eleventh ward school circles which looks considerably like an effort to hit one of the organization candidates for county office over the head of his sister. Miss Florence M. Cook, one of the teachers in the Everett school, claims that while she has been on the payroll for $100 a month she got only $83 and that she had to turn the balance over to Miss Nannie Mackrell, sister of Arch Mackrell, and principal of the ward schools. The $15 was then given by Miss Mackrell to Miss Mary Bishop.

On the face of it the transaction looked a little peculiar, but when explained by the members of the old board, who authorized the splitting of salaries, the sensational features fade away. Director John T. Fox says when Miss Cook was re-elected last year it was decided to cut her salary to $85 and give the additional $15 to Miss Bishop, who was getting $70 and was doing even more difficult work than Miss Cook. Proper notification was given Miss Cook, on September 8 last, and she agreed to the arrangement.

At the meeting of the board last Friday she protested against the plan being carried out this year. She said, however, that she did not charge Miss Mackrell with getting the money. Since then she has published an affidavit which, by inference, reflects upon Miss Mackrell, but the school board sustains the action of its principal. There will be a meeting Thursday night, when teachers will be elected. Even though there are four citizens and two organization men on the board, it is not thought that an attempt will be made to defeat Miss Mackrell.

Miss Mackrell last night made the following statement:

"If it is the intention of Miss Cook to make it appear or by her affidavit to imply that I have at any time retained for my personal use the money, or any part of the money, which she has at times returned to me I may only say that it is absolutely and unqualifiedly untrue. Miss Cook not only knew, but fully understood that the money which she returned to me was for, and was applied to, the salary of Miss Mary Bishop, in order that the salaries of Miss Bishop and Miss Cook would be the same."

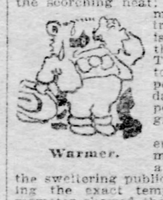
MASSACRED BY ROBBERS.

A Small Caravan in Sahara Desert Wiped Out.

ORAN, ALGERIA, June 16.—A local newspaper today publishes a statement that a small caravan was massacred by brigands last Friday at Hadelbegri.

The Figuig district, in the desert of Sahara, is infested with brigands.

THE WEATHER.



Warmer.

There is to be little relief today from the scorching heat; in fact the weather man says it may be a trifle warmer and there is no telling how long the hot spell will last. The indications point to an uninterrupted period of heat. Yesterday's maximum temperature was 90 degrees.

The Gazette's weather service at Kaufmann's corner proved a boon yesterday for the sweltering public interested in learning the exact temperature. The thermometer showed the following:

THE NEW FLYERS MADE RECORDS ON FIRST TRIP

Speed Rate of 95 Miles an Hour Reached Near Harrisburg.

PASSED NEAR ALLEGHENY

Eastbound Train Was Two Minutes Late, But Had Made Up Eighteen East of Wooster, O.—Stalled Freight Was in Her Path.

Both of the Pennsylvania railroad new 20-hour New York-Chicago trains made record runs before reaching Pittsburgh last night. The westbound train arrived exactly on time. This train maintained a speed of 95 miles an hour for a stretch of four miles near Harrisburg. The eastbound train lost 20 minutes on Wooster hill, in Ohio, but had all but made this up when it reached Pittsburgh two minutes late.

The eastbound and westbound specials in their race passed each other within the limits of Allegheny county, a short distance west of Allegheny city. If the trains were on time they would have passed just outside the limits of Allegheny city. The westbound train is scheduled to leave Union station at 11:15 and the eastbound train to arrive at 11:20. The trains in passing through Allegheny and over the Allegheny river bridge do not make the speed they do running in the open country. The trains could be run into the Union station simultaneously, but this is avoided to save confusion and the clashing of baggage at the Union station; also to permit the St. Louis car to be switched on the eastbound train, which could not be done if a westbound train occupied the track and blocked the way.

Many Received the Flyers.

When the westbound special pulled into Union station there was a large crowd of railroad officials and newspaper men waiting to meet it. The hands on the large clock in the station marked the arriving time, and to the second the big Atlantic type engine gave her last exhaust as the air whistled through the pipes, locking the wheels of the beautiful red train. Engines were soon changed, wheels examined, and oiled, crews changed, a few puffs given and she was again speeding through the night to break, if possible, the record run from New York.

The run from New York was devoid of much incident. When the special pulled into Harrisburg she was ahead of time. Between Cove and Duncannon, a short distance west of Harrisburg she broke her record run to Pittsburgh. A level stretch of four miles was covered in 2 minutes and 31 seconds, making an average speed of 95.9 miles an hour.

At Altoona Ahead of Time.

At Huntingdon two minutes were lost, but between that city and Altoona it was made up, and the red train pulled into Altoona ahead of time. On the middle division the train ran into a heavy rainstorm, which thickened the atmosphere and made the engineer crouch close to his cab window to see that the track was clear of his flying train.

When the Pennsylvania Special was made up at New York the train consisted of four cars. They were a combination baggage and parlor car, dining car and two Pullmans. The dining car was cut off at Altoona and when the train pulled into Pittsburgh the three cars were the Utopia, Chili and Tyrone.

Just before the special pulled out of Pittsburgh Charles Watts, general superintendent of transportation of the lines west of Pittsburgh, boarded the train and will go through on it to Chicago. No other passengers were taken on in this city. On the special were 15 New York and Philadelphia newspapermen.

Passengers Were Elated.

On the middle division several bursts of speed were recorded and where time was expected to be lost, when the special started up the mountains from Altoona, the big Atlantic type engine showed that even if the extra car had been on it could have maintained schedule time.

All the passengers on the train were elated over the run out from New York. They said the big engine was perfectly handled by its driver and that it responded to every call made by him on it. When the four mile stretch between Cove and Duncannon was reached the engineer opened wide the throttle and between mile posts in this stretch a rate of 95.9 miles were reached. When the train reached Pittsburgh it had only two empty berths and no passengers left it here.

Shortly before the eastbound special from Chicago pulled into Union station the Pullman car Bryn Mawr, which came in on the Panhandle from St. Louis, was switched over to the Fort Wayne tracks to be attached to the special. There were 17 through passengers in this car, and as soon as the red train pulled in the sleeper was quickly attached to it.

The East Bound Special.

The eastbound special consisted of a combination baggage and parlor car and the Pullmans Guatemala, Merion and Arcadia. The big clock in the station showed that the special had pulled in two minutes late, but this was a trifle when it was known that the train lost almost a half hour between Fort Wayne and this city.

On the division between Fort Wayne and Crestline a broken freight train was encountered, which the special pushed to a siding some two miles distant. Seven minutes were lost, but this was made up before Wooster was reached. At Wooster Hill a stalled freight train was met, causing a delay of 20 minutes.

A record run was then made to Pittsburgh and several bursts of speed were made on every straight stretch of track. As one of the Pullman porters said: "It appeared that we went through Canton at a million miles a minute, and that the station flew past us." When the train left Chicago all but five berths in the Pullmans had been sold. No passengers were taken on in this city.

Men Who Made the Run.

There was more than a little excitement among the railroad men and passengers at the station when the eastbound flyer arrived two minutes late. The story was easily told. The engineman had accomplished one of the best runs ever made on the Pittsburgh division of the double-tracked Ft. Wayne. The 190 miles of this division was covered in four hours, two minutes over the schedule.

Engineer William McBride was at the throttle, aided throughout the Pittsburgh division run by Robert Palmer, assistant road foreman of engines. Conductor E. W. Davis was excited when he jumped from his train and shouted: "We are two minutes late."

Several of the transportation officials present were more than pleased when they heard the story of the first run. No matter how old the railroader, the first trip of a new train must be on time as a harbinger of its future success. The locomotive was No. 369 of the classification "A E" under the system of the Pennsylvania railroad. It is more commonly known as the Atlantic type, a sturdy machine, regarded now as the best speeder on the railroad as a class.

A Hot Day in the Park—'Neath the Shade of a Sheltering Oak.

All of the locomotives brought into Pittsburgh and sent out on the two trains were of this type. Four 80-inch driving wheels, a "trailer" and a four-wheel pony truck are characteristic features.

Another Sleeper Added.

When the eastbound train reached Pittsburgh an additional Pullman sleeper was added, making four cars. The following crew took charge: Alexander Thompson, engineman; G. W. Stevenson, conductor; A. L. Study, flagman; W. R. Clark, brakeman; L. E. Rush, fireman; S. A. McMinn, baggagemaster.

The westbound train was brought the distance of 441 miles from New York to Pittsburgh at an average of 48 miles the hour, including the stops. At many a point the train was running at such rate that she would have come in ahead of time, but this was not desired. At several points she was two minutes ahead of time, but at all stopping points the schedule was absolutely maintained.

The crew of the westbound train, when she reached Pittsburgh, was made up as follows: L. G. Hawkins, conductor, L. E. Walker, engineman; Frank P. Hunter, baggagemaster; C. C. Schroc, fireman, and Frank A. Bitner and S. A. Walker, brakemen.

Picked Men for the Crews.

Here the train was given over to the Ft. Wayne crew, men picked for the occasion, and by reason of whose experience Mr. Watts, who has accompanied President A. J. Cassatt on record runs of his own in the old days, once when Mr. Cassatt was in the engine, was anxious to go along. W. P. Toner, formerly road foreman of engines, entered the cab of engine No. 37 to drive her on her western journey; Engineer John W. Smith to assist him. W. H. Smith was in charge of the train as conductor.

The New York Central railroad yesterday inaugurated a similar service via the Lake Shore route. Its train is known as "The Twentieth Century Limited."

LAKE SHORE'S SPEEDY.

New Limited Reaches Cleveland After Satisfactory Trip From Chicago.

CLEVELAND, June 15.—The Twentieth Century Limited, the new 20-hour train on the Lake Shore between Chicago and New York, passed through this city at 7:30 o'clock tonight, having made a satisfactory trip for the 305 miles between Chicago and Cleveland. The train left Chicago at 12:30 p. m., well filled with passengers and a number of railroad and newspaper men.

Before the train was well out of Chicago it had gained a speed of 50 miles an hour and soon was speeding on to Elkhart, 101 miles, at a speed that at times went as high as 75 miles an hour.

CORONER'S DAILY LIST CONTINUES LARGE

Deaths Caused by Electric and Steam Cars, Drowning and Other Accidents Reported Yesterday.

Antanas Skurdelis died at Mercy hospital early yesterday morning from injuries received by being struck by a street car on Saturday afternoon in Forbes street, near Brady street. He remained unconscious all the time he was at the hospital. His skull was fractured at the base of the brain. His brother, who identified his body at the morgue, said he was 28 years of age and that he has a wife in Austria. He was a coal miner, and boarded at No. 2323 Forbes street.

Thomas Paff of Elfinwild was killed at that station on the Pittsburgh & Western railroad about 10:30 o'clock Saturday night. He alighted from a train on which he had gone home from the city, and as he stepped across the track was struck by a freight going about 40 miles an hour. He was a single man, 37 years of age.

The body of an unknown man was found on the tracks of the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad near Rankin station early yesterday morning. The man had been run over by a train. His left leg was cut off at the knee. He was about 40 years old.

The body of an unknown man about 30 years old was found drowned early yesterday morning, in the Monongahela river near Blair station. From its appearance the body had been in the water for some time. There was nothing found by which the dead man could be identified.

Robert Brewer, a widower 84 years of age, died suddenly yesterday at the home of William Elliott, his son-in-law, with whom he lived at West Tarentum. He was missed from the house about 10 o'clock, and on a search being made, was found dead in an outbuilding. He was a retired farmer, and quite well-to-do. His death was due to the infirmities of old age.

About 8 o'clock last night an unknown colored laborer was drowned in the Monongahela river, at Port Perry, while in bathing with some companions, all of them employes of the Kerbaugh Construction Company, which is building a tunnel at Port Perry. As they all go by numbers, it is a difficult matter to obtain the name or residence of a victim of an accident. The colored man who was drowned was riding on a log. The waves from a passing steamer caused the log to roll over and the man, losing his hold, went to the bottom. The body was not recovered.

Coroner Jesse M. McCleary was notified last night of the drowning of James Curry and John Taylor, whose bodies were taken from the Youghiogheny river at Coultersville yesterday afternoon.

The body of an unknown colored man was discovered last night by some boys in a patch of woods in West Pittsburgh. The coroner was notified.

The coroner was notified about 11 o'clock last night that two young men named Roberts and Green had found the body of an unknown colored man in a patch of woods near "Fox's coal bank," in West Pittsburgh. The morgue wagon was sent to the place, but when it arrived and a deputy coroner went to turn the supposed dead man over, the latter proved to be alive. A physician was called and he said the man was likely afflicted with an epileptic fit. He was placed in the morgue wagon and sent to the city. The man is an Italian.

Three Drowned in Lake.

PORT HURON, MICH., June 15.—During a gale this afternoon Arthur Martin, aged 21; Beatrice Abraham, aged 14, and Norman Abraham, aged 7, were drowned in Lake Huron by the overturning of a rowboat off Edison beach.

MILITIA AGAIN IS KEPT BUSY

MANY SCENES OF DISORDER IN STREETS OF PAWTUCKET.

Machine Gun Loaded and Made Ready for Use, but the Crowds Melted Away for the Time—Rioting Spreads to Central Falls.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PAWTUCKET, R. I., June 15.—The presence of 700 armed men sent by Gov. Kimball to restore order had little influence except in the central parts of this city today, where the soldiers formed an invincible guard, and this afternoon rioting broke out anew in the suburbs and spread to the neighboring city of Central Falls. The resumption of the electric service, which had been abandoned since Thursday, was the signal for demonstrations at the points where neither soldiers nor police were stationed, and the character of the attacks grew worse until the traction company was forced to abandon the car service.

The disorders extended over so great an area that the troops available were unable to handle the situation, and it was said that before the normal car traffic can be resumed it will be necessary to place the city of Central Falls and parts of Cumberland, Lincoln and North Providence under military control. To do this an increase in the number of troops will be necessary.

It was demonstrated that the cars could not be operated in safety under the present conditions. The tracks were obstructed and cars were pelted with stones by the mobs, not only in the suburbs of this city, but in Central Falls. Missiles struck many of the employes, some of whom were injured, and rolling stock was damaged.

About 3,000 people gathered around one car in Central Falls and their attitude was so threatening that a machine gun was loaded and two companies of marines were ordered to charge the crowd. The car proceeded, but the line was later abandoned.

The marines then marched through the city and at another point the machine gun was made ready for action, when it became apparent that an outburst was imminent.

PARKS WERE CROWDED DESPITE THE RAIN

Fine Attractions Were Presented and Crowds Were Well Pleased. This Week's Concerts.

Although no rain fell at some of the traction parks the afternoon downpour in the city yesterday caused many people to postpone the usual Sunday outing until evening. Owing to the intense heat of the day the parks began to fill up earlier than usual. Southern, Calhoun, Oakwood and Kennywood had special programs of entertainment. In the parks visited by rain the people quickly scampered for shelter.

Not a drop of rain fell at Southern park, where the Chicago Newsboys band, composed of "newsies" ranging in age from 10 to 18 years, gave two delightful concerts. The band is a novelty. It was organized three years ago by O. B. Reichart, the director, and tours the country. As the boys grow out of their teens they drop out and other musically inclined "newsies" who sell "polpers" during the fall and winter, take their places. There are 32 members in the band and their playing yesterday astonished many local bandsmen who went out to hear them.

The Third Regiment band and Adelaide Boutelle, an operatic mezzo-soprano, were the attractions at Calhoun park. This was Miss Boutelle's first appearance before park crowds and she made a hit.

The Boston Ladies' Symphony orchestra, after two weeks at Kennywood, appeared at Oakwood for the first time yesterday and made a pleasing impression.

Kennywood was crowded as usual, afternoon and evening, despite the rain. The attractions there were Rocereto's Concert band, Anna Teresa Berger, cornetiste, and J. L. Ritchie, piccolo soloist. Miss Berger is a resident of Chicago and is better known as "the Female Pryor" because of her proficiency on the cornet. She was vigorously encored, as was the band after each number.

Rocereto's band and Anna Teresa Berger will give concerts every afternoon and evening all the week at Kennywood. At Southern the Chicago Newsboys' band will be heard every evening. The Boston Ladies' Symphony orchestra will give evening concerts at Oakwood. All are free.

MRS. SCHWAB AS GODMOTHER.

Came on Special Train to Attend Christening of Sister's Child.

The Rev. G. W. Dyess of St. Mary's Protestant Episcopal church, Braddock, officiated at a christening yesterday which attracted a great deal of attention. The child was the infant daughter of Mrs. Minnie Dinkey Ward and Dr. M. H. Ward of the East End, Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Charles M. Schwab came from New York on a special train to be godmother to the child. She is a sister of Mrs. Ward and the christening was held in the church built by Mr. Schwab in memory of Mrs. Dinkey, his mother-in-law. The child was named Mary Urania Ward. Mr. Brown of Sewickley stood as god-father.

THREE NOTABLE BETROTHALS.

Third Son of King George of Greece One of the Engaged.

ATHENS, June 15.—The betrothal is announced of Prince Nicholas, the third son of King George of Greece, and the Grand Duchess Helen, daughter of Grand Duke Vladimir of Russia.

VIENNA, June 15.—The betrothal is announced of Archduchess Maria Annonciade and Duke Siegfried of Bavaria.

LONDON, June 15.—The engagement is announced of Lord Francis Hope and Beatrice Ricketts, whose grandmother the late Lady Caroline Ricketts, was a daughter of the fourth duke of New Castle. Lord Francis Hope and Miss Ricketts are cousins.

NEGRO LABORERS CAUSED A RIOT AT BRIDGEVILLE

Mortally Wounded a Russian Storekeeper Who Refused Them Whisky.

TEN ARE UNDER ARREST

Constable Robert McMillan Formed a Posse and After an Exciting Time Put the Disorderly Mob to Flight. Arrests at Carnegie.

The Sunday peace and quiet of Bridgeville, this county, were rudely disturbed yesterday by a gang of disorderly and reckless negro laborers employed on the Wabash line, who provoked a riot and did some shooting. One man, a Russian storekeeper, will probably die. Seven of the rioters were arrested by county officers and citizens of Bridgeville and locked up. Three more were arrested after an exciting struggle at Carnegie last night.

As is usually the case in a camp of colored railroad builders, Sunday was given over to gambling and carousing. Early in the day the supply of whisky one of the gangs had laid in on Saturday became exhausted, the drains made on it Saturday night having been heavy by reason of the gambling seance that ran all night being more than ordinarily exciting. The negroes were in an ugly state, the result of their heavy potations, and determining that they must have more liquor started out to get it.

The gang went to a general store kept by a Russian and demanded that he supply them with whisky. They were refused. A loud and angry dispute followed, and then the shooting commenced. Three bullets were fired into the breast of the Russian, and it is said that he is mortally wounded.

A great uproar and confusion followed the shooting. The borough officers, assisted by several citizens, got active and started in to make arrests. Constable Robert McMillan, who was at the head of the movement to quell the riot, swore in a posse. This posse had lively work cut out for them. The negroes resisted arrest, but the determined front Constable McMillan and those with him put up put the rioters to flight, after seven of them had been arrested. Among the seven is said to be the man who shot the Russian storekeeper. Aside from the shots fired into him, there was much general promiscuous shooting. The women of Bridgeville were for a time terrorized by the uproar.

Last night three unknown negroes, suspected of being rioters, were arrested at Carnegie. They were captured by Chief of Police George Foster and Officer Schuler, after an exciting struggle. The men were coming from the direction of Bridgeville, and the officers believe they have the right men.

BIG DAY FOR PLUM CREEK.

Centennial Celebration of a Famous Presbyterian Church Is to Be Observed Next Thursday.

The session and members of the Plum Creek Presbyterian church, New Texas, Pa., have sent out invitations for the centennial anniversary of the church, which will be held next Thursday morning. The exercises will begin at 10:30 o'clock and some of the most noted ministers of Pennsylvania will take part. The pastor, the Rev. Calvin G. Hazlett, and the session have left nothing undone to make the centennial a memorable event. All the former pastors now living will be present, and a special train will carry a delegation of Pittsburghers who were identified with the Plum Creek church in their earlier days. Among the latter will be Judge S. A. McClung, whose father, the Rev. Samuel McClung, was a former pastor; Maj. F. E. Patterson and Prof. Samuel Hamilton. Those who will participate in the exercises are: The Rev. C. G. Hazlett, the Rev. Dr. Henry Bain, the Rev. Dr. M. B. Riddle, the Rev. Dr. J. D. Moffat and the Rev. J. A. Marquis.

DE WET SAYS IT'S THE WILL OF GOD

BOER HERO ADVISES HIS PEOPLE TO BE LOYAL TO BRITAIN.

Praises the Women for Encouragement They Gave to the Men in the Field. The Burghers to Be Assisted by Government to Re-Stock Farms.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, June 16.—Dispatches received here from South Africa show that surrenders of Boers are proceeding with the greatest good will. The total of those who have already surrendered numbers 16,500, and the British are extending every possible kindness to the men who come in.

The appearance of Gen. DeWet at the camp at Winburg was the signal for a great display of enthusiasm. When he arrived, he was at once surrounded by thousands of Boer men, women and children, who struggled and clamored to shake the hand of their hero. Gen. DeWet mounted a table and delivered an address. He warmly applauded the stanch support that the women had given the burghers during the war, which, he said, had greatly encouraged the men in the field. Continuing, Gen. DeWet recommended his hearers to be loyal to the new government, and said:

"Perhaps it is hard for you to hear this from my mouth, but God has decided thus. I fought until there was no more hope of upholding our cause, and however bitter it may be, the time has now come to lay down our arms. As a Christian people, God now demands that we be faithful to our new government. Let us submit to His decision."

Neither Gen. DeWet nor Mr. Steyn, former president of the old Orange Free State, was ever wounded during the war. Gen. DeWet has not seen his wife for two years.

The repatriation committee, which has been formed to assist the Boers in returning to their farms, has a gigantic task before it. The concentration camps will be converted into supply depots to provide the returning burghers with the means to rebuild and restock their farms. The wives and families of the Boers will, if desired, be maintained at the expense of the government while the burghers are preparing the farms for their reception.

Two thousand of the national scouts, who fought upon the British side during the war, will immediately be disbanded and each scout will be provided with a pony and enabled to return to his farm.

CHAUNCEY PIANOS

When you get a piano that gives general satisfaction you invariably find that it pleases the members of the household in particular. There is no better test of a piano's real merit. It must please the family if it accomplishes any degree of substantial success.

The Chauncey piano is essentially a HOME instrument. It is admired because of its charming tone and its durability. The Chauncey retains its sweetness of tone because every detail of structure is adjusted with scientific precision. And although the price of the Chauncey is very moderate, there is no instrument made that is better value.

SOFT COAL MEN GIVE THEIR AID TO THE STRIKERS

District President Gilday Tells What Is Done Under His Jurisdiction.

ALL ARE WITH MITCHELL

Will Obey the Call to Join the Struggle If He Thinks It Necessary. No Change in the Situation—Many Meetings Held.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 15.—Patrick Gilday, president of the Central Pennsylvania bituminous district of the United Mine Workers of America, who came here to consult President Mitchell on a matter local to his district, today gave an insight as to what the soft coal miners are doing to help the anthracite strikers. There are 42,000 soft coal miners in Mr. Gilday's district. On the second day of the strike Mr. Gilday sent out the instructions to every check weighman and pit committeeman in his district to prevent the shipment of soft coal into anthracite territory and thus far, he said, very little coal from his district has taken the place of anthracite.

"There have been only four attempts by unionized miners to send soft coal to the anthracite markets," he said, "and in each case we prevented its shipment.

When asked regarding the feeling in his territory as to a general strike to help the hard coal miners, Mr. Gilday said:

"Our men will do whatever President Mitchell says. They can have our financial support, and if Mr. Mitchell sees fit to ask our men to lay down their picks they will do it promptly."

President Gilday's mission here was to get President Mitchell's consent to continue the strike against the Sonman Shaft Coal Company, near Portage, Pa., and also the financial support of the national organization. He received both. The strike at that place was inaugurated April 15, because the company would not recognize the union and sign the wage scale. About 150 men are involved.

The strike at the Bloomington mines, near Philipsburg, Pa., has been settled and the men will return to work tomorrow. Five hundred men struck there last Tuesday because four men would not join the union.

There were no developments here today. President Mitchell was in frequent telephonic communication with his men in the west in general organization work. He has had no information to impart on either the strike in this region or the West Virginia suspension.

There were meetings of strikers throughout the region today which were attended by fire bosses. Some of the labor leaders say that nearly half of the fire bosses still at work promised to stop work tomorrow. President Mitchell knew nothing about the number of men who intend to quit.

There were two meetings of railroad men today, one at Ashley and the other at Kingston. The Ashley meeting condemned the action of 21 Jersey Central men who had been laid off on account of slack work, for taking the places of strikers in the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre mines, which are owned by the Jersey Central Company.

Representatives of railroad men from Sunbury, Pa., to Binghamton, N. Y., attended the Kingston meeting. Resolutions were adopted sympathising with the striking miners.

HAZLETON, PA., June 15.—"We expect the strike of the assistant foremen and firebosses, who will be called out tomorrow night, to be as effective as the strike of the engineers, firemen and pump runners," said District President Duffey today.

SCRANTON, PA., June 15.—For the past two days the citizens alliance has had a card in the papers threatening prosecutions against boycotters and asking all who have been boycotted to send their names to the alliance executive committee. At the regular meeting of the Central Labor union today the secretary was instructed to mail to the alliance a full list of those on whom the union has placed boycotts.

Steamer Ashore in Fog.

CAPE HENRY, VA., June 15.—The British steamship Falcon from Mobile for Belfast via Norfolk is ashore two miles south of False Cape life saving station. She is apparently uninjured, but is jettisoning her deck load of lumber. The accident was due to fog.

SUMMER'S COOLING DRINK.

The Great Restorative Properties of Coca Cola, the Wonderful Summer Beverage — Most Palatable and Pleasing to the Taste.

During the enervating heat of summer all mankind longs for a pleasing and satisfying drink or beverage. Then we seek for a draught from the spring, teeming and pearly brook, the drops of which contain the vigor and balmy fragrance of the dews of a summer night. In vain we sometimes enter upon the lanes that lead to the realm of nature, with the endeavor of obtaining, from brook or cascade, a fresh, pure and soothfully quenching draught. No longer need we go upon jaunts of pastoral glee. Thanks to the scientist who has made it possible for us to imbibe in such a drink at the very doors of home. In this drink is contained all the elements and properties that the human imagination can picture. Even under the fervent and glaring rays of the noonday sun, when the forces of nature seemingly become relaxing, it is then that "Coca Cola" instantly produces not only a satisfying, but absolutely restorative effect.

DRINK COCA COLA, WORLD'S GREATEST DRINK.

The medicinal properties of "Coca Cola" are wonderful and matchless. No preparation of what-soever kind, gives the system so much benefit. Virtually, it seems as though the alchemy of nature had compressed into "Coca Cola" all the various elements of tone and vigor. In cases of acute fever or severe headache, "Coca Cola" gives instant relief and permanent cure, if regularly used. As a tonic or stimulant it is highly recommended everywhere. "Coca Cola" bears the indorsement of the chemist of the U. S. government, under whose rigid analysis it had been subjected, and who, in terms most positive, pronounced it to be absolutely free from any injurious ingredient. What other beverage or preparation is there that has the indorsement of the government?

Coca Cola, the summer drink for health and vigor, is made of the fruit extracts of Coca and Cola trees. It was first introduced by the Coca Cola Company of Atlanta, Ga., in the southern states it has gained a renowned reputation as a wholesome, stimulating and non-alcoholic beverage. It is now generally used in all the temperate zones of the earth.

In this city it is handled by Mr. W. E. Birchmore, a member of the original firm who supplied the local trade. Mr. Birchmore has already an extensive bottling plant in this city. Coca Cola may be had at all druggists and candy stores of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and adjacent territory, where it is sold for five cents a bottle. It is likewise supplied for home consumption at very reasonable rates.

As a wholesome, pure, delicious and cooling drink Coca Cola is unsurpassed. When once taken, you will have more, and the more you take, the better you feel. It is harmless, as the crystalline waters of the green mountains, and soothing as balm itself. Try it at any store or fountain; but be sure to get the genuine.

Total from boroughs and townships, $576 62.

This makes a total of $2,118 09, an increase of over $500 as compared with 1901. There was also an increase in the number of schools contributing, more of them taking part than in any previous year. In 1897 the collections from the schools were $536 53; in 1898, $600 60; 1899, $904 96; 1900, $1,359 78; 1901, $1,595 48. These figures indicate the growing interest the children are taking in the work of relieving the destitute, sick and injured.

THE THREE RIVERS.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, O., June 15.—At 6 p. m. the river was 8 feet, stationary. Weather fair and warm. Threatening rain tonight. No arrivals nor departures of transient boats.

LOUISVILLE, KY.—River falling, with 4.5 feet in the canal, 2.6 feet on the falls and 8 feet at the foot of the locks. Business quiet. Weather clear and warm. Rain this afternoon. City of Louisville left for Cincinnati at 9 a. m. A crowd went up on her to meet the Cincinnati and return on her tonight. Tarascon arrived from Evansville.

PADUCAH, KY.—Gauge reads 7.7 feet. Weather cloudy and warm. The Dick Fowler brought a big excursion from Cairo. The H. W. Buttorff arrived at 4:30 p. m. from Nashville.

MEMPHIS, TENN.—The river stands 12.3 feet on the gauge. The Georgia Lee arrived this morning from Cairo and returns Tuesday. All local packets due today arrived on time.

CAIRO, ILL.—The river marks 20.2 feet on the gauge, a slight rise. Weather fair and warm. The Woodfolk from below passed up for Paducah at 2 p. m. with empties. The Therese Lee from Memphis passed up for St. Louis at 5 p. m. The Avalon is due.

POINT PLEASANT, W. VA.—River 6.1 feet and rising. Weather cloudy and warm. Up, Henry M. Stanley and George Mattherson.

BROWNSVILLE, PA.—River 5.7 feet, stationary. Weather clear.

OIL CITY, PA.—River 1.5 feet, stationary. Weather clear and warm.

WARREN, PA.—River 1 foot. Heavy showers and warm.

STEUBENVILLE, O.—River 3.10 feet and rising. Clear and warm. Up, Kanawha and Bessie Smith.

Elizabeth, Morgantown, 3 p. m.

Packets Leaving Today.

The slight rise in the Ohio will enable the Kanawha to come into port without touching bottom at any place. The Kanawha is regarded as the best low water boat on the upper Ohio.

The Bessie Smith will not have any difficulty in coming to Pittsburgh and will be found in port this morning.

The towboat J. B. Finley is several days out from New Orleans on her way north with tow of empties.

The United States snagboat E. A. Woodruff has pulled several snags out of the river in front of the wharf at Gallipolis.

Robert W. Wise, Jr., will be married in Delhi, O., on the 24th inst. to Miss Margaret Louise Andrew. Mr. Wise is a son of Capt. R. W. Wise, one of the best-known steamboat commanders on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers.

Steward Fred Stoltz has recovered his power of speech and is otherwise considerably improved, but still traces of his recent attack of paralysis remain with him.

The United States lighthouse tender steamer, Golden Rod, has arrived at Cincinnati after her annual spring junket to the beacon lights on the Ohio, Great Kanawha and Tennessee rivers, covering 1,000 miles and attending the wants of 353 lights.

Of the days of the old Louisville & New Orleans Lightning line, such steamers as the T. C. Twitchell, E. H. Fairchild, John Raine and Ben J. Adams were not classed as the finest type, either in finish, speed or capacity, although today either would be considered a marine wonder if reproduced. The Magnolia, Empress, Eclipse, A. L. Shotwell, Diana, Atlantic, R. J. Ward and their type were the boomers of the day. The Fanny Bullitt was similar in construction to the first-named steamers, being slower than most boats of that period, but she broke the record as a money maker when she earned her owners $210,000 in one season for four months, and during her life paid her first cost 14½ times.—Louisville Post.

15c a yard for striped Oxfords and Madras, Dimities and dotted Swisses—20c goods.

25c a yard for White Silk Warp Mousselines—made to sell for 45c a yard. Short ends—10 to 20 yard lengths.

35c a yard for Fancy Cord and Figured Piques—45c goods.

Colored Percalines, 5c Yd.

Dressmakers can say, with perfect propriety, "We won't do a thing to that." Formerly sold for 12½c and 15c. If you are not a dressmaker, you are just as welcome to the bargain.

Also a lot of Mercerized Moreens—in colors. Regular 35c goods, but we'll close the line 25c a yard.

Exquisitely Dainty Shirtwaists.

This news for women who appreciate finery—or going to the superlative, the super-fine.

Handsomest waists that expert needle people can produce, fashioned by the world's most noted makers. Handsomely elaborate or daintily simple.

Shirtwaists of sheer white materials—the newest and most charming models. Beautiful in their finishes of fine lace, tucks and embroidery. $5, $7, $10, $12.50, $15.

Imported Waists of cobweb-like materials (white only), trimmed as only Paris knows how to be original—exclusive designs imported by us and not found elsewhere. $10 to $25, and $25 to $45.

SPECIALS: White Waists in numerous pretty designs, handsomely trimmed with embroidery and tucks, soft stocks, full sleeves, narrow tucked cuffs, really good $2 grades for $1 each.

Another, equally as much under value, quality and style considered, for $1.50.

Black Dress Goods—Specials.

We believe in luck—as it is generally understood. Most of the time we are lucky. A case in point:

Black cheviot, you know, is staple as muslin, and generally commands a pretty good price. Now we were lucky enough to get from a manufacturer about 1,000 yards of 54-inch Black Cheviot, so much below usual price that we can sell it for $1 a yard.

We make a fair profit on it at that price. But if it had not come to us in an unusual way the price would have been $1.75—what it always sells for.

Thousand yards in a store of this size is not much. Is that a broad enough hint to be early?

Another special. 1,000 yards of Black Voiles and Tamise—41 Summer materials—today 60c a yard. Quite a saving, don't you think?

Embroidered Robes—Much Less.

Please look over this list and see if there is not some robe that strikes your fancy. You know they are the best form of Summer dress.

Ecru Batiste, pleated skirt with embroidered ruffle, was $45, now $36.

Ecru Batiste, trimmed with lace, was $30, now $24.

Embroidered Ecru Batiste, was $20, now $16.

Embroidered Ecru Batiste, was $15, now $12.

Grass Linen, was $10, now $8.

White Batiste, trimmed with lace, was $18, now $14.40.

White Embroidered Batiste, was $25, now $20.

Black and White, pleated skirt, was $45, now $36.

Black and White Embroidered Batiste, was $25, now $20.

There are a few of the Embroidered Shirtwaist Skirts left to sell for half prices—$10 skirts for $5, and so on.

Other Embroidery bargains for today are—

Lot of Swiss Dresser Scarfs, with colored linings, were $2 and $2.50—$1 each today.

Swiss Dresser Sets—Scarf and three Mats—25c a set—worth 50c.

Pointed Reductions on Lace Robes.

The mere suggestion of a lace robe greatly underprice is enough.

Ecru Renaissance Robes, were $50, now $33.

Ecru Batiste Robes, were $75, now $50.

Ecru Escurial Robes, were $45, now $30.

White Mousseline Robes, were $75, now $50.

White d'Esprit Robes, were $25, now $17.

Ecru Grass Linen Robes, were $50, now $33.

White d'Esprit Robes, were $13.50, now $9.

Black d'Esprit Robes, were $25, now $17.

Black and Blue Soudan Robes, were $35, now $24.

White Chiffon and Renaissance Robes, were $90, now $60.

And here is some news of trimming laces:

Lace All-Overs of Filet Lace, $2 to $4 a yard; of Val. Lace, 50c to $2.50 a yard; of Plauen Lace, $1.50 to $9 a yard.

Lace Galloons—ecru and white—1 to 5 inch widths—5c to $2 a yard.

We have a few Embroidered Grass Linen Insets for waists that sold for $3, $5 and $6 a yard. Today choice for $1 a yard.

French Hats and Toques, Half Prices.

Now, then, ladies, for goodness sake don't ever say you can't afford Paris Millinery because it is too costly.

Here is the greatest midsummer opportunity ever opened to you.

Today we take 100 of our French Model Hats and Toques—the best creations of noted Paris modistes—exquisite in their finish and personally selected because of that exquisiteness—and say to you take them for half regular prices.

$12.50 for $25 Paris Hats or Toques.
$15.00 for $30 Paris Hats or Toques.
$17.50 for $35 Paris Hats or Toques.
$22.50 for $45 Paris Hats or Toques.

Each of these models is a gem—both as to association of color and the shape.

Then there is the added attraction of the Half Price Sale of the Phipps & Atchison Outing and Golf Hats—a great event.

Women's Tailored Suits.

Some Far Below Half Prices, but About an Average Half All 'Round.

A fashion writer says: "Those who have waited until now to buy tailored suits are getting them for one-half and one-third off." The season is at hand when we lose sight of profits. It is the stock-reducing time, and we go about the business in no half-hearted way.

You buy the best of this season's productions in Eton, Blouse, Gibson, Maxim and Fly Front designs—dress or walking styles—for the most generous reductions. And you have choice of such materials as cheviot, mohair, etamine, men's wear cloth, and other weaves used in the making of tailor gowns.

As specimens of reduced prices take the following:

For $9.75 a very good assortment of finely tailored suits that were excellent values for the prices at which they formerly sold—$15 and up to $20.

At $12 a collection of pretty suits in cheviots and other cloths—black and summer colorings—all styles and each style entirely silk lined. Former prices $20 and up to $25.

At $17.50—probably the most inviting underprice group of the lot—too many styles and materials to enumerate, but there will be no disappointment. Jacket or Skirt, separate, is worth the price we ask for the entire suit. Formerly sold for $25 to $33.

At $25 and $35 there is choice from our best cloth costumes, beautifully trimmed and handsomely designed. Many of our exclusive $50 dresses are included.

Silk Shirtwaist Suits.

An improvement over the same style dresses in wash materials. Silk has many of the good qualities of wash goods, besides many virtues that belong to it alone.

These are admirable traveling suits and equally admirable for street wear.

In a desultory way we note—

For $15—Polka dot and figured Foulards made after the design of higher priced gowns.

For $20—Fine Satin Foulards in several sizes of polka dots and other handsome designs. Prettily tucked waists and flounced skirts.

For $20—Fine dresses of shepherd check taffeta—all the varied sizes of checks and stripes. Prettily trimmed with tucks, cords and pearl buttons.

For $16.50—Dresses of Shantung Pongee. Trimmed waist and skirt. Just a faint dash of red to relieve the one-color effect. Very dressy.

Dress and Walking Skirts—Mohair.

Never such a rush for mohair. Last season it was vigorous—this Summer it is tremendous. We are safe with a perfectly complete stock, and a range of prices that women pronounce right.

$5—A popular price for black and navy Dress Skirts—polka dot effects. Finished with flare flounce—lined with good percaline.

$6.75—Black and blue Mohair Dress Skirts—entire skirt made in cluster pinch tucks. Same price for same material and same pattern in Walking Skirts, shapely kilt model—inverted pleat in back.

$10—Blue and Black Mohair Walking Skirts—kilt style, stitched bottom, inverted pleat in back. Extra quality mohair.

$15—Blue and Black Mohair Walking Skirts, box pleated—open seams.

Mohair skirts in the several styles of gore flare, flared flounce, side and box pleats, in the price range of $10, $12.50, $15 and up to $22.

Genuine Irish Dimities, 18c and 25c Yd.

Woven in Ireland, printed in Ireland, brought over from Ireland by this store—or you would never buy them for such prices.

There's as much difference between Irish Irish Dimities and American Irish Dimities as there is between muslin and linen. One is the real thing—the other an imitation.

We have 50,000 yards, and there are hardly two pieces in this vast collection alike—enough to make 4,116 dresses, and yet each dress unlike the other. Why, this Dimity stock is a study!

As for colors—any color you can call in the whole range of colorings.

Great News of Black Silks.

Notice the paragraph about Black Grenadines. We shall have to refuse to mail samples to out-of-town requests. Not enough to last a great while.

Nice selection of dollar small figured black Pongee—used for shirtwaist suits. Today we'll sell it for 75c a yard.

Dollar Black Faconne Taffeta—variety of designs—today 65c a yard.

Dollar Imported Black Dress Taffeta—guaranteed—something extra for 78c a yard.

45-inch Black Grenadines—mostly dress lengths left from recent big sale. All lengths of 8 yards and under—sold for $1.50, $1.75 and $2 a yard—today for 85c a Yard

Handsome Undermuslins That Don't Cost Much.

The third week of the June sale of Undermuslins is full of just such good values as the first week. This semi-annual gathering of fine underclothes is not for a few weeks, but intended to run through many weeks. Still early choosing is always desirable.

Nightgowns—

Of fine cambric and muslin, high neck, V or square, trimmed with lace embroidery and hemstitching, 75c.

Of fine nainsook, low neck and short sleeves, lace insertion and ruffle; or hemstitched, drawn with ribbon; or V, high or square necks, lace, embroidery or hemstitching, finished with ribbon, $1.

With flounce, tucks and double ruffle of daintily embroidered scallops and under ruffle, $1.75.

Women's Bathing Suits, $3.75.

If you are off on the excursion next Thursday take along your bathing suit. This advice specially to women.

This $3.75 suit is not a beach suit, but a water suit, built purposely for a good time in the surf. Black serge, sailor collar of white duck, tie of same; belt, too: trimming of black soutache braid. Full blouse waist, skirt side-pleated.

Other styles, all the water materials, from $2.25 to $13.50 Little surf book illustrating bathing suits, free.

Quickly Said Curtain News.

And it will require hasty action this morning to participate in the bargains.

Imported Wraps—Many Reduced.

If you are a patron of this section of the second floor you know all about the display of Paris Wraps. If you are not a patron, or even a visitor, you are doing yourself an injustice by not coming—at least to look.

Creations from the most famous Parisian designers, or reproductions of their best examples, with touches of our own on lines of beauty and practicability, are always here.

Today we offer some of the newest ideas in Carriage and Traveling Wraps, especially in Monte Carlo Coats and all lengths in the very popular Shantung Coats.

Quite a few of our more expensive garments have been materially reduced in prices.

Pongee Coats—full box backs, or if preferred the tight fitting or half box—cape collars, large bishop or San Toy sleeves, $25. Nothing but the best grade of Shantung is used.

Taffeta Dust Coats—all silk taffeta, full length—collarless or with double cape collar—plain or trimmed with lace—$15, $25, $40.

Monte Carlo Pongee Coats—American or Shantung weaves—graceful and ideally symmetrical—severely plain or trimmed cuff or kimona sleeve—$18, $25, $30.

Silk Eton Jackets, $10. Of peau de soie, handsomely tucked all over, collarless, edged with pretty meteor braid, full lined.

Many of our finer grades of which we have only one of a kind at decided reductions—$15 to $35 formerly $22 to $50.

Colored Silks.

News that will be best appreciated pertains to white. Greatest white season for years.

White Jap. Silk—22, 27 and 36 inches wide—that soft lustrous silk women like so much for waists, 35c, 45c, 50c and up to $1.50 a yard.

White Shanghai—27 and 36 inches wide—another soft weave that women know how to use in many ways—75c to $1.50 a yard.

White Ivory and Cream Taffeta Silks—special purchase. All season we have sold the same grade for 65c. 19 inches wide. Today 55c a yard.

Plain colored Pongee—an 85c grade—the kind wanted for shirtwaists and shirtwaist suits—68c a yard.

TEN PAGES.

Tying to Pennypacker.

The report that the Citizens party of Allegheny county intends to indorse the Republican state ticket is another proof of the wisdom of the Republican state convention in nominating Judge Pennypacker for governor. It is an admission of Pennypacker's strength in the form of an effort to appropriate it for local political uses. The Republican nominee is a man against whom nothing can be urged by even the sincerest and most uncompromising opponent of the Republican party. Those who wish the worst for "the party of Lincoln, Grant and McKinley" speak only good of Pennypacker, as they do of those whose names are mentioned in the familiar and popular quotation. It is as true as that nothing can be urged against him that chapters may be written of his virtues and ability. His strength is not in negative, but in positive qualities. As he becomes better known to the people during the campaign the public esteem will take deeper root. Organizations that offer him their support and that support the Republican party through him show political shrewdness and wisdom in so doing. They thereby bid for public confidence. Nothing is to be gained by opposition to him. He is the people's choice, as was demonstrated in the Republican state convention at Harrisburg on Wednesday last. Opposition to Pennypacker would be a simple and unadorned invitation to the popular boot to do its proper work.

Elkins and Cuba.

The annexation proposition of Senator Elkins of West Virginia is not a remedy for the present Cuban situation, though there is no doubt that the incorporation of the island with the United States would be a sure and speedy cure for the economic ills of which its people complain. We cannot annex Cuba "without the consent of the governed." Cuba has been just set up by the United States as an independent government and advances for the annexation of Cuba must therefore come from the people of the island and not from the United States. The annexation resolution at this time cannot be considered by Cubans as anything less than an attack on Cuban independence, and as such it is an embarrassment to the president. Therefore it is neither wise nor patriotic. At some other time, in the far future, if framed as an invitation, it might be quite proper, but just now it is, to put the best possible construction on it, impolitic, in any form in which it might be presented. At the same time there is no need to be alarmed by reports that Cuba is likely to be driven commercially into the arms of Great Britain, for Britain can offer Cuba nothing that is not now hers through the absolute freedom of British markets. Britain has not given her own sugar producing colonies preferential treatment and there is no reason to believe that she will give Cuba an advantage over them. But the duty of the United States toward Cuba is plain. President Roosevelt has stated it clearly in his message and he well fortified himself by his quotation of President McKinley, showing thereby that the senators who are opposing the administration policy are quarreling also with the policy of McKinley, which Roosevelt is endeavoring to carry out. American good faith is involved in the success of the policy and we have no doubt that the right will triumph in the end. Cuba, though independent, is the ward of the United States by virtue of Cuban acceptance of the Platt amendment. It is our duty to assure the future of our protege.

The President at Harvard.

Harvard college commencement this week will possess unusual interest for the reason that for the first time in the history of the institution a president of the United States will be present in the role of a graduate. President Roosevelt, as everybody knows, is an enthusiastic alumnus of the Cambridge school and has from year to year attended its commencements and joined with great vigor in the festivities of the joyous occasion. His going to Harvard this week is the theme of much speculation among the student body and many conjectures are made as to whether the dignity of the office of president of the United States will interfere with the pleasure that Mr. Roosevelt usually extracts from his association with Harvard men. It may be taken for granted in advance that the president, while duly appreciative of the dignity of his position as "the first gentleman in the land," will not let that stand in the way of his enjoyment of this opportunity to renew old ties and recall old associations.

The president is not only strenuous in his conception of the higher duties of life, but he has proven that under other circumstances he can just as strenuously enter into the spirit of sport and gayety that will form so important a feature of the Harvard commencement exercises this week.

Pattison and Guthrie.

While George W. Guthrie has the indorsement of Allegheny county and James Gay Gordon is counting on the solid backing of Philadelphia for the Democratic nomination for governor, Robert E. Pattison, who, like Gordon, calls the Quaker City his home, is doing most execution in the country districts. Pattison's strength is not in his own city, but among the people west of the Schuylkill, and it really looks as if he will be the strong man in the Democratic contest when the Democratic state convention meets at Erie. Ordinarily Philadelphia cuts a large figure in Democratic state conventions, but in the one to meet this year on the shore of Lake Erie it will be a small quantity, without much influence. Consequently, if Gordon goes to Erie with only Philadelphia at his back and National Committeeman Guffey against him or not with him, he might as well remain at home. The reduction of the Democratic vote in Philadelphia has cut down the representation of that county in the state convention to only 29 delegates, while Pattison has already 66 instructed delegates to his credit and many friends among the uninstructed delegates. It has been long apparent that Gordon's entire strength is in Philadelphia, and as he aims to supersede Guffey in the state leadership Guffey is certain to oppose the extension of his influence through the state. Gordon, therefore, may be considered as already eliminated and the situation resolved into a contest between Pattison on the one hand and Guthrie and the rest of the field on the other. From present indications there will be a sufficient number of uninstructed delegates waiting the word from Guffey to give him control of the convention, so that the Democratic nominee, whatever his name, will be Guffey's man. It is reasonable to suppose that on the roundup he will select for his own the man who shows the greatest individual strength, as all but Gordon are his friends, and up to this time Pattison has made the best showing. It is highly probable, therefore, that the nominee of the Democratic state convention will be Pattison. After that is settled it would be no surprise were the ticket to be geographically balanced by the selection of Guthrie for second place.

Reports from the Atlantic City conference of Democrats that J. K. P. Hall has made a formal declaration that he will not be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, but will be for the man favored by Guffey, removes one of the most influential elements from the field and materially strengthens Guffey's hold. It also points more strongly toward Pattison. It is also a straw in the political breeze indicating the opinion of Democrats accustomed to feeling the popular pulse as to the chances for Republican success in November. Congressman Hall, it is well known, is ambitious to be governor of Pennsylvania, and no one who knows him will believe that he would have retired from the contest in advance of the convention had he thought it possible for a Democrat to defeat Pennypacker. The Elk county man has looked ahead and determined not to risk his prestige in the Democratic party by heading his party's ticket in a losing fight.

The Big Naval Displays.

It is rather singular that it doesn't strike one as odd to learn in these piping times of peace and under the very shadow of The Hague peace treaty that the naval authorities of the United States are planning a big mimic naval display as a sort of object lesson to the world, while at the same time furnishing an admirable opportunity for testing the efficiency of the new navy. According to the plans given out by the navy department the forthcoming maneuvers in West Indian waters will be conducted on the most extensive scale ever attempted by this branch of the nation's defense service. The time set for the display is the latter part of August and the first of September and its scope and extent indicate that there is considerably more sought in the exhibition than the usual training and experience that our seamen and marines are supposed to derive from the exercise. Admiral Dewey during the maneuvers will fly the four-starred flag of his rank at the mast of his flagship as commander of the American fleet.

The naval pageant is meant to be impressive. It doubtless will be. Since the close of the Spanish-American war the impetus given the building of a new navy has not in any wise abated. Even the gathering of the largest and most formidable fleet of sea fighters that America has ever owned in the maneuvers this fall will furnish only a glimpse of what we are really doing in the way of sea defense.

Herr Baumann on America.

A cablegram from Berlin tells us that Felix Baumann has written a pamphlet entitled "In Darkest United States," in which he paints this country very black, and "warns Germans, especially women, against emigrating to such an evil atmosphere." The pamphlet is said to be having a large sale and may be having an influence in prejudicing people in the German fatherland against this country, merely on the principle that there is some fire where there is so much smoke. Whether there is any motive behind the pamphlet other than the profits of the sale does not appear. However, it ought not to have more than an ephemeral popularity. There are too many Germans in the United States in communication with friends and relatives at home to permit the attack to pass without authoritative denial, and the good report of us made by Prince Henry is too recent not to have an important influence in nullifying the effect of Herr Baumann's unpleasant effort. Any country or people can be made to appear to very bad advantage by a writer who confines himself to its criminals, but the criminal classes are not in a majority in any country. They are not in a majority in the United States any more than they are in Germany, and, of course, Herr Baumann knows it. It may amuse him to present as a true picture of the United States a criminal chapter, but it will not win him a desirable reputation.

The new special delivery postage stamps will have the picture now on their face of a running messenger boy changed and the boy placed on a bicycle. The incongruity of the former legend has long been a source of amusement to those who know anything of the habits of a messenger boy.

According to the census bureau there were 121,682,540 collars and cuffs manufactured in this country last year. This will be something of a poser to the fellows who never find a clean pair of cuffs when in a hurry to dress.

It is now rumored that Capt. R. P. Hobson of Merrimac fame will resign from the navy to go into politics in Alabama. Evidently the captain's courage has not deteriorated since his assignment to peaceful tasks.

Doubtless President Roosevelt feels a little handicapped by the rules of his office which prevent a repetition of San Juan tactics on some of those belligerent senators who are blocking Cuban reciprocity.

FOUND IN THE EXCHANGES.

One of the largest fish caught in New River was hooked at Kanawha Falls last week. It was a mud cat and weighed 56 pounds. It was sent to Hinton.—Fayette Journal.

An eastern tribe of gypsies is traveling in an automobile. It is presumed that in accordance with their advanced ideas fortune are told by the aid of phonographs.—Akron Beacon Journal.

Charles Breed, a well-known and prominent citizen of Breedtown, near Emlenton, is lying at his home in a dying condition suffering from the effects of a bite of a cat, which caused blood poison.—Shippensville Enterprise.

Sam Anglan, one of Capt. Johnson's teamsters, last week killed one of the largest rattlesnakes that has been found in this section for the past five years. It measured 61 inches and carried 17 rattles.—Bellington Central Republican.

Rattle Snake Pete will have to look to his laurels. Ira and Joseph Barnes, who live at Church Hill in Warren county, killed 20 rattlers last week and 10 of them on Thursday. Two of the reptiles were five feet six inches in length and one carried 17 rattles.—Edinboro Independent.

Fishes, like trees, have their "annual rings." The scales of many fish show a series of parallel eccentric lines, which indicate successive increments of growth, and these lines of growth prove to be more widely separated in that part of the scale formed during the warm season of the year than in that of the old season. Mr. J. Stewart Thomson, who has been studying the markings, has reached the important conclusion that in many species the ages of individuals may be determined quite accurately.—Meadville Morning Star.

Last Wednesday while on his way from Rossiter to Punxsutawney, W. T. Nickeson of this place killed a blacksnake seven feet long. It made no resistance whatever, acting as though it rather enjoyed being killed. On Thursday Court Hoover was traveling over the same road and nearly at the same place he killed another blacksnake about the same size, probably the mate of Mr. Nickeson's victim, which had been looking for its lost love. It seemed to be in a very dejected mood, and when Mr. Hoover broke its back with a club it appeared to perfectly resign to its fate, looking up to him as if to say: "It is all right. Life has no charms for me, anyhow, since the departure of my spouse."—Oil City Derrick.

Too Honest for Success.

From the New York Tribune.

An ambitious Philadelphian who wished to start in business for himself applied to a wholesale woolen merchant and obtained credit for $400. The salesman asked him what he manufactured.

"I mak pants," he replied.

"How do you want to buy these goods?"

"The best vey I can," was the answer.

"How will you pay for them?"

"Well, I gif you my note for four months."

"Is your note good?"

The buyer looked around, winked to the salesman, and put his finger to his nose. "My friend," he said, with the air of one who is about to impart a confidence, "if my note vas good I vould makes notes, not pants."

BEAUTY IN COURT.

If to make the eyes googoolish
She should choose—
Then choosing her is foolish
She can't lose.

If her hair is soft and shining
(Peroxide)—
If a Janice curl is twining
On the side,
Though the lawyers talk like fury
Of the case,
Still the grave and solemn jury
Sees her face.

If the lady has no beauty,
She's condemned
When the jury has o'er "duty"
Heaved and hemmed.
She had best—it is a pity—
Drop the suit,
If she cannot hire a pretty
Substitute.

Now, the reason's very simple
For it all.
Nothing strange that blush and dimple
Have the call.
'Tis the might of wily woman
Shown again—
For the jurors are but human—
And they're men.

Gotham Takes a Day Off to See the Big Race

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, June 15.

That the "sport of kings" is also that of the republic, was proved again yesterday, when a considerable percentage of New York's population precipitated itself head first at Sheepshead bay. Suburban day always sets this city racing mad; not only this city, but every other center of business and homes where the love of the thoroughbred has become epidemic. Automobiles are all well enough in their way, but the flying race horse is still closer to the hearts of the people at large than the mile-a-minute gas engine. That was the sentiment expressed in New York yesterday, and many visitors from other cities said the same thing in different words. I do not know how many Pittsburghers were here yesterday to go to the Suburban, but I saw in one group on Broadway Ed Martin, James W. Platt, John Sweeney, John Staley and three or four other prominent men in councils and out of them. This was only one Pittsburgh party out of a dozen that could be met in the hotel lobbies and elsewhere last night, all talking about the glorious sport they had witnessed at Sheepshead. In the afternoon it seemed as if all business offices, down and up town, were deserted. In some cases a stenographer or lonely office boy could be found. They all had the same reply to inquiries, that Mr. Blank and his secretary, and his cashier, and the clerks, had all gone to the races. It was regarded as eminently the proper thing to go to Sheepshead bay yesterday, and no one felt that an apology was demanded for taking the half-holiday. It was Suburban day. That was enough. Of course, several of the Pittsburgh delegation here picked Gold Heels, and were radiant when that faithful animal romped in ahead of the others. At least three Pittsburghers told me—after the race—that it was a sure thing for Gold Heels from the first, and that they (the Pittsburghers) had known it all along. So far as can be gathered from remarks by different members of the party, the Pittsburgh crowd must have taken a good-sized wad of Gold Heels money home. Aside from more sordid considerations, it was a great race, and it has been discussed in animated fashion all day, Sunday and all as it is.

Motormen Take to Wearing Goggles.

Motormen in New York are taking to the wearing of chauffeurs' goggles. They argue that what is good for the driver of one kind of automobile ought to be suitable to the engineer of another, and as there is no material difference between driving a $50,000 private automobile and a $2,000 public trolley car, the humble motorman is gradually equipping himself with the various conveniences that the lordly chauffeur finds necessary for his comfort. So the hideous goggles which we have become used to on the faces of members of the Automobile club of America now glare at us over the dashboard of some of the Broadway cars, and the habit is growing. It is not of record that the Metropolitan Street Railway Company has added the wearing of these things, but their usefulness in keeping dust and strong sunlight out of the eyes of the street car chauffeur is beyond question, and the men are assuming them of their own accord.

Nerve-Racking Fun Less Popular.

Now that a man has been nearly killed in the west while trying to loop the loop on a bicycle, and the inventor of a patent toboggan car of new design has been slain by his own machine, there is a disposition to watch closely the various contrivances for fun, more or less dangerous, at Coney Island. The "barrel of love" was a dreadful affair, which has gone out of business because there was more discomfort and danger than fun in it, and visitors to the island look askance at most of the machines in which the element of personal peril is always present. A great many mechanical novelties, designed to give the patron a more or less rocky and jolting trip for a few blocks, were running today; but it was observed that those who paid their nickels for the experience were always eager to know beforehand whether everything was safe, and that there was not such a rush of customers as has been usual in the past. Coney Island habitues confessedly go to the world-famous resort for fun, but they are becoming rather more critical of the kind of fun offered to them than they were a year or two ago. The fun of "Old Coney" has acquired strenuousness very fast since the debut of the comparatively mild "scenic railway," and the "railway" was not altogether soothing to a nervous person.

Strollers Club's New Skit.

The final roister of the "Strollers' club," that crack amateur dramatic organization of Greater New York, is to take place on Tuesday next. The play of the occasion will be a skit by John L. Golden, and the title of it is "Round Herald Square." Rupert Hughes also had a hand in writing the piece. The Strollers say the new play is the best they ever had. Admission to the entertainment is by invitation, and already tickets are out for an audience that will fill the auditorium to the very doors.

On the Etruria Passenger List.

The Cunard liner Etruria, which left here on her first eastern trip yesterday, since her accident, carried a large number of passengers from all over the country. The fact that the vessel was badly smashed in collision in European waters, and had been in dry dock for many weeks, did not scare anyone that wanted to sail on her, evidently. Several hundreds of cabin passengers crowded her decks as she pulled out of her slip in the North river, right on time, yesterday morning, waving farewells to friends, and with every anticipation of a pleasant voyage. Among the passengers were these from Pittsburgh: R. A. Brocktbank, H. Rottenberg, Miles W. Walker and Clarence Watkins.

In Memory of Cummings.

At the memorial services for the late Amos Cummings at Carnegie hall next Sunday afternoon there will be addresses by Congressmen John S. Williams of Mississippi and David H. Mercer of Nebraska; John W. Keller, ex-president of the New York Press club; Gen. James R. O'Beirne, the Rev. L. J. Evers, "the printers' priest," and others. The music will consist of the combined orchestras of Proctor's Fifth Avenue, Fifty-eighth street and One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street theaters, and will be conducted by Prof. James Regas. The selections will be Ambrose Thomas' "Raymond" overture, Handel's "Largo," Chopin's "Funeral March" and Meyerbeer's "Coronation March" from "Le Prophete." There will be a double quartet from "The Chaperons," while the soloists will be Miss Frances Lee and Mlle. Laya, prima donna of the French Opera Company, which appeared for several weeks at the Victoria theater in the winter and spring.

Merchants on Subway to Get Damages

The decision of the court of appeals that Mr. Bates, proprietor of the Everett house, in Union square, is entitled to damages of $50,000 on account of the injury to his business through the operations of the contractors on the rapid transit subway, is a precedent that will lead to more suits of the kind. The merchants of Forty-second street have combined to make it warm for the contractors on their street. For more than a year Forty-second street has been in a state of chaos, and it is said that two firms have been forced into bankruptcy through the tearing up of the street in front of their places of business. There is to be an underground station at the corner of Forty-second street and Broadway, which will be 300 feet long and 100 feet wide. This will mean more tearing up, and the merchants abutting are looking forward to more trouble. The contractors expect to restore the present stretch of broken ground to its normal condition before they begin on the station, however.

Driven Mad by Ping-Pong.

New York has its first ping-pong lunatic. He is in Bellevue hospital now, but yesterday he was around police headquarters offering to play a game of ping-pong with Commissioner Partridge for his job. Then he got into a police court—how he could not tell, but he was there—and he offered to meet the magistrate in the sorry field of ping-pong for a box of cigars or his honor's seat on the bench. It is supposed the poor fellow had swallowed a ping-pong ball in mistake for a liver pill.

The Very Latest Sport.

Ping-pong has had a setback as the game of the season on the ocean liners. Wireless telegraphy has proved too much for it. People here are talking with much interest about the game of chess by wireless telegraphy between the Campania and the Philadelphia. Passengers on the two ships, which have both arrived at this port from England, say that it was the most exciting contest in the way of a game they had ever seen. On each vessel the player sat in a deck cabin, while the wireless telegraph operator was stationed close by. The player arranged his men on the board and moved them according to the messages that came across space by telegraph, meeting each move of his opponent as seemed best in his own judgment. A large crowd of spectators watched the board, although it was tacitly understood that there must be no interference with the play of the person chosen to represent the ship in the battle. It was declared much more interesting than ping-pong, and not so fatiguing. If anyone had dared to suggest the merits of the old-fashioned ship game of shuffleboard the chances are that he would have been pitched overboard.

Monograms on Shirt Waists.

Broadway has seen and admired the last real "lum-tum" thing in feminine adornment. It is the monogram shirt waist. A very pretty girl flitted along upper Broadway yesterday afternoon in a white shirt waist, on the sleeve of which was a large monogram worked in blue silk. The device presumably comprised the girl's initials. Every woman who passed her turned around to look at the blue embroidery. The girl gave no sign that she was aware of being looked at; but she knew it, all the same. The monogram idea began in the furnishing stores for men's negligee shirts. The outing shirts with initials worked on the sleeves were put on the market a month ago. They did not take very well, however. Men seem to think the idea was first cousin to the shirt waist and more fit for women than a manly man. It appears as if women have the same opinion, since the first monogram shirt waist seen in action was on a girl.

The Pittsburgh Color in New York.

Soft coal was rampant yesterday. Old New Yorkers declared that the smoke was at its very worst, and that Pittsburgh never saw such sooty conditions as prevail in this city. The "L" road, which had been using some anthracite mixed with bituminous coal on its engines, threw the anthracite out yesterday and fired up with soft coal exclusively. The consequence was a riot of soot, smoke and cinders. Doctors say there is an epidemic of throat and lung trouble, and that the hay fever season has set in more earnestly and earlier than ever. The "L" road engines are responsible for most of the smoke, but there are factories and breweries which do their full share. The worst of it is that the smoke is as bad in the residence districts as it is downtown, if not worse. In that respect it is much worse than Pittsburgh. The buildings of white stone and marble are becoming grimy, and the whole city is gray, with a grayness that Pittsburgh has become used to as its own special hue.

First Bootblacks' Trade Union.

Union "shines" are to be the rule here, if the Greater New York Bootblacks' Union No. 1, just organized, has its way. The president is Antonio Zafoli, a Harlem professor, who shines his shoes with an artistic touch that has made him famous. The first meeting of the union was held on Friday night. The speeches were in Italian. A petition was prepared for presentation to Gov. Odell, Mayor Low and the board of aldermen, requiring that the authorities use their influence in favor of a law which shall make it obligatory for the brushes to stop polishing at 2 o'clock in the afternoon on Sundays. One of the objects of the organization will be the establishing of a training school. Graduates of this institution will give as much attention to the heels as the fronts of the shoes, and are not to lay on stratas of blacking to save muscular efforts.

Colombian Insurgent Leader in Town.

Gen. Gabriel Vargas Santos, the "grand old man" of the Liberals of Colombia, and leader of the revolution there, is in New York to hold a conference with his chief of staff, Gen. Focion Soto, relative to the conduct of the revolution in the Panama province and in the Casanare territory. Gen. Santos, who is 70 years old and has fought in 22 battles since 1854, declares that the recent reverses suffered by the Liberal troops have been greatly exaggerated by the Conservatives.

Crowns in a Store Window.

At one of the department stores in the shopping district will be on exhibition tomorrow 18 crowns, fac-similes of those worn by monarchs of the world. The crown of St. Edward, the official crown of England, is by all odds the most interesting of the lot. In contrast with some of its mates in the exhibit it is an economical design, although its richest beauty may be said to lie in its simplicity. It is modeled after the ancient crown destroyed by the commonwealth in 1649. The latter was duplicated in 1661, and the present crown has been used in nine coronations. Beside the crown is the orb of England, an immense golden ball somewhat oblong in shape and heavily banded with cross rings of gold, in the center of which great jewels are held. The orb is placed in the right hand of the ruler after the crown is put on the head and is a symbol of supreme political power. As in the case of William and Mary, when a smaller orb was made for Mary, there will also be a smaller orb for Queen Alexandra at the approaching coronation. The display is unusually interesting, as well as brilliant, and it will pay Pittsburghers visiting New York this week to drop in and look at it.

Lord Wolseley's Opinion.

The following letter dated Farm House, Glynde, near Lewes, was received by the editor of the Army and Navy Journal from Lord Wolseley in response to a request for an article on West Point:

Dear Sir—I have just returned from a long trip abroad and found your letter of April 18 on my table.

I regret very much that I have no time at my disposal for writing letters intended for publication, but I can assure you of this that I always quote the American army as being to my views of soldiers, the best army in the world.

Believe me to be faithfully yours,

WOLSELEY.

THE MAN UP A TREE

From a High Viewpoint.

COL. PERSONALS.

William F. Richards, an oil operator of Beaumont, Tex., passed through Pittsburgh last night to New York. He was formerly engaged in the oil business in the West Virginia fields, but sold out his interests there and went to Beaumont 14 months ago. "Since the recent volcanic eruptions in the Windward islands," he said, "there has been a large decrease in the flow of oil in the Beaumont field. Several large gushers dwindled down soon after the eruption of Mt. Pelee, and the flow from many other wells was lessened. There is plenty of oil in Texas, and I think that after the active volcanoes in the island of Martinique settle down that the natural flow of oil will return to these wells."

Gen. R. H. Hall of the United States army, who is on the retired list, passed through Pittsburgh to Chicago last night. He had been at West Point attending the graduation exercises and the reunion of old West Point officers. "The reunion was one of the greatest in the history of the academy," he said, "as many old officers from the north and south, who had not seen each other for many years, gathered there. The address made by Gen. E. P. Alexander of South Carolina was one of the happiest ever made at West Point. It has caused much comment, and will cement the friendship already existing between the blue and the gray. Gen. Alexander told me that he had written his address so as to have an effect in his own state. Gen. Alexander was chief of artillery of the confederate army."

Mrs. Marion Hill, colored, who has been a nurse in the military hospital at Santiago, Cuba, for the past four years, passed through Pittsburgh last night. She is going to Nebraska to visit friends. "Since the Americans took possession of Santiago," she remarked, "the city has been cleaned up and it is now perfectly healthy. I like the island very much and expect to return there in a short time."

William Greeves, a conductor on the Philadelphia division of the Pennsylvania railroad, accompanied by his wife, left the city for their home last night. They came to Pittsburgh to attend the silver wedding anniversary of David A. Hutchinson and his wife of the East End.

Joseph Kirkpatrick, assistant superintendent of the Pullman service at Philadelphia, who has been visiting in this city, went to his home last night.

Gen. Charles Dick of Akron, O., a member of congress and commander of the Ohio National Guard, passed through en route to Washington last night. When seen at Union station Gen. Dick said that he had not been in Washington for the past 10 days, as he had been a member of the board of visitors and had just returned from West Point. When asked about the Cuban exposures Gen. Dick said: "I really know nothing about them outside of what I have read in the newspapers."

Twenty-four delegates of the local camps of the Sons of Veterans went to Doylestown last night to attend the national convention, which opens there this morning.

Thomas G. Sample, superintendent of public printing, was a passenger to Greensburg last night. He is also a member of the soldiers' orphan board. The board will start on its annual inspection of the schools tomorrow, when the school at Uniontown will be visited. On Wednesday and Thursday the board will visit the school at Chester Springs.

Victor Witt, a mechanical engineer, who was formerly engaged with the Rictrichel & Henneberg Construction Company of Dresden, Germany, is at the Hotel Henry. He has been engaged by the Carnegie Steel Company and will hereafter make his home in this city.

P. D. Nichols, a real estate dealer of Pittsburgh, went to New York last night. "I have an important real estate deal on hand," he remarked, "and may have a story for you when I return home."

"The Pennsylvania railroad is spending more money at present for betterments than ever in its history," said a prominent railroad official last night. "All passenger service over what is known as the Trenton cut-off, excepting the Pittsburgh limited, has been cut out. A new station is to be erected at Thirty-fifth and Market streets, Philadelphia, and a tunnel is being driven from Powellton avenue to Germantown Junction. This will shorten the line for the 20-hour trains about five miles. The four-track system is practically completed between New York and Philadelphia, and arrangements are now being made for a six-track system. Two tracks will be used for the fast passenger trains, two for fast freight and the other two for local passenger trains. It is the intention ultimately to reduce the time between Chicago and New York to 12 hours. The train crews of the Pennsylvania Special will change crews and engines at Powellton avenue station, and the passengers will be taken into Philadelphia on trolley cars. The proposed new station at Thirty-fifth and Market streets will be used as a station for the fast trains, and will relieve some of the congestion at the Broad street station."

SOCIAL DRINK MAY OCCASION A CIVIL WAR

It Is a Question of Etiquette Between Rival Chiefs of Tutuila.

NO APPEAL TO UNCLE SAM

King of Manua Desired to Condemn to Death Officials for Breach of Custom—A Bigger Man Than King Edward.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., June 15.—Trouble is brewing in Samoa. Even now the chiefs may have led their warriors with blackened faces to war on account of a dispute over the etiquette surrounding the method of serving kaiva, the national drink. Similar disputes in years past have led to atrocities and many German soldiers were the victims in the eighties.

Tuimanua, who styles himself the king of Manua, has a great following in the island, and the etiquette in force at his court provides that he is the only person whose cup may be "called" when he is served with kaiva. Manga, a chief and a district governor, dared to demand his cup "called" when kaiva was served him. The matter was carried into the courts, but the decision rendered by the district court was far from satisfactory to the chief, and it has been reported to the navy department that they are anxious to have it out with each other on the field of battle.

Capt. Sebroe, commandant of the Tutuila naval station, has submitted a report on the trouble to the navy department. Manga one day visited the village of Ofu in Manua. A council was held and kaiva was served. Manga refused to drink unless his cup was "called." Salesapaga, one of the village officials, spoke, saying that Manga should be allowed to have his cup, because he was a governor, and Palaita, who had previously offered Manga the kaiva, called out: "Aumai le ipu o le kovana" (fetch the cup of the governor).

This was the "calling" of the cup, and the kaiva was straightway served and drunk.

When Tuimanua learned that the cup had been called for Manga he at once ordered the arrest of those who had called it. Salesapaga and Palaita. The trial was long and excited the greatest interest. Fo-fo, a village magistrate, was a witness. He said that an official of Manua had done wrong; that the penalty for breaking the custom of calling the cup was punishable by death and destruction of the houses and lands of the accused.

"Not even the king of England could have his ipu," said Fo-fo, "for Tuimanua is higher than all other kings, and the people of Manua are the supreme people of the earth."

But those accused were acquitted. The acquittal proved generally unsatisfactory. Capt. Sebroe reports that he discovered that two chiefs at Tutuila who asked permission to visit Manua desired to seek trouble with Tuimanua.

BIG PAY MADE THINGS LIVELY AT BRADDOCK

About $750,000 Given to Employes About Braddock and in Turtle Creek Valley Saturday.

With the 22,000 mill men about Braddock and in the Turtle Creek valley, Saturday was a record day. It was pay day for most of the men and it is figured that $750,000 in coin and currency changed hands. Business men did a tremendous trade. The mills and furnaces have nearly all been running to their capacities in the fortnight covered in this payroll. Besides, during the past month several of the big industries in the Braddock district have put on additions to their plants.

The Edgar Thomson blast furnaces, which employ 1,800 men, paid out almost $90,000, and the Edgar Thomson steel works, employing 1,200 more, paid out $80,000. The 4,000 employes of the Westinghouse airbrake works, at Wilmerding, received almost $200,000 for two weeks' work, and the 3,500 employes at the East Pittsburgh works of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company received about $190,000. The 1,200 blast furnace workers at the Rankin stacks of the United States Steel Corporation were given about $50,000, and the 2,400 workmen in the Rankin and Braddock plants of the American Steel & Wire Company received about $80,000.

PLANNED BIG SWINDLE.

Attempt to Secure $500,000 Worth of Jewelry by Fraud Nearly Successful.

SHIPPENSBURG, PA., June 15.—(Special.)—An attempt to swindle 27 of the best-known retail jewelers in New York city out of $500,000 has been brought to light here by Charles E. Kolb, a salesman employed by Schumann's Sons of New York. One of the two men who tried to perpetrate the fraud is now in the Cumberland county jail at Carlisle.

The attempted swindle was to secure jewelry on approval from New York retailers in the name of G. H. Stewart, one of the wealthiest men in this county whose rating is such that dealers would not hesitate to honor the order. Letters headed "G. H. Stewart, Shippensburg, Pa.," and signed with that name, were sent out to New York retailers. Each letter stated that the writer was about to make a wedding present and he wanted the firm addressed to send several pieces of jewelry from which he could make a selection. Black, Starr & Frost, Tiffany & Co., Theodore B. Starr and over a score of others were asked for brooches or rings and each was notified that the present Mr. Stewart would select must cost not far from $2,000.

Mr. Stewart's rating was investigated and all the firms except Schumann's Sons forwarded the jewelry by express. The firm mentioned took another course and sent Mr. Kolb here in person with about $10,000 worth of rings. The real Mr. Stewart was called upon and he straightway denied that he had sent for any jewelry. He also declared that he did not understand the letters and telegrams he had been receiving about a job lot of jewelry.

Then the real story came out. Mr. Stewart remembered that a man had called on him and said that he had been unable to find mail that he expected; that his name was also G. H. Stewart; and that he had just hired a store and was going into the jewelry business.

The bogus Mr. Stewart was arrested and confessed that he was "broke in New York and met a man at the Mills hotel who was also broke. He told me he knew a way by which we could both make a lot of money. Then this scheme was cooked up and here I am."

He was placed in jail on the charges of forgery, using the mails for illegal purposes and attempting to obtain goods under false pretenses. It was learned that his pal, on hearing of the alleged Stewart's arrest, took the first train for Hagerstown, Md., and the local police went after him.

LOCAL NEWS
OF ALL PITTSBURGH

THREE CITIES, FORTY-FIVE BOROUGHS, TWENTY-SIX TOWNSHIPS, FIFTH IN VOLUME OF BANK CLEARINGS, FOURTH IN RANK AMONG CITIES.

Dispute Over a Dress—Sallie Johnston of No. 6514 Penn avenue was arrested yesterday on a charge of having stolen a dress from Mrs. Frankie Brown of Butler street. Both are colored.

Reckless Pistol Shooting—Some unknown person fired a bullet through the window of Mrs. Clarkson's residence in South Negley avenue yesterday afternoon. No damage was done beyond the breaking of the glass.

Burglars Near McKees Rocks—The residence of Robert Blanser, in Russellwood avenue, West Park, was entered yesterday morning and two suits of clothes and a gold watch taken. There is no clue to the thieves.

Lampert Still Missing—The McKees Rocks police have as yet found no clue to the whereabouts of Chief of Police Lampert. The announcement that he was missing caused great surprise in the borough yesterday. No one seems able to account for his disappearance.

Arrested for Theft—T. V. Harrington of Buffalo was arrested last night on a charge of larceny made by Mrs. Lillian Rankin. Harrington is a shirt and cuff salesman. It is alleged that he called at Mrs. Rankin's boarding-house and took $50 from her.

Two Youngsters in Trouble—Fred and George Esselmeyer, brothers, of No. 10 Fleck street, Allegheny, were arrested on Herrs island yesterday by Officer Louis Herman. Fred, the younger of the brothers, was swimming and the officer arrested him on a charge of violating a city ordinance. George cursed the officer for arresting his brother and was also arrested.

Turtle Creek Salaries Raised—There is trouble in Turtle Creek over the action of the council in increasing the salaries of high officials and decreasing the wages of day laborers from 20 to 18 cents an hour. At a meeting Friday Solicitor Cunningham was given an increase of $50 a year, making his salary $500. Chief of Police Hill received an advance from $750 to $900 a year.

B. & O. Freight Wreck—A freight wreck occurred on the Baltimore & Ohio at Dars Hollow, near Scott Haven, early yesterday morning that blocked traffic for eight hours. It was a rear-end collision. Both trains were hauling loaded coal cars, and four of them were derailed and 10 cars badly smashed up. Trains were transferred over the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie tracks. No one was injured.

Booked for Dixmont—Drs. F. C. Gundlach and W. H. McKelvy were called to No. 8 police station yesterday to determine the mental condition of Joseph Probst of No. 151 Wabash avenue, West End. They found him to be demented, and he will be sent to Dixmont. Probst, who is about 30 years old, lived with his mother, Mrs. J. Kelmeyer, and for several weeks past has been acting in a queer manner.

Carnegie Was Again Dry—Yesterday was another dry Sunday in Carnegie, not even a drug store being open. Cars leaving the borough were all filled with people flocking to the city and parks. A crowd of young fellows, known as the "McConnaughy Indians," marched up and down the streets giving vent to their feelings in regard to the blue laws. They sang, "Nobody Knows How Dry I Am," and it was sung throughout the afternoon and evening.

Pipe Coverers Organize—Another of the crafts is being organized in Pittsburgh. This will be an organization of men who put asbestos coverings on steam and hot water pipes in modern buildings. Sixty-one of these met yesterday evening and arranged, through Calvin Wyatt, general organizer of the American Federation of Labor, to form a federal lodge of this organization, which now numbers 1,500,000 men. The organization will be known as the Pittsburgh Salamander Asbestos Workers.

Car Struck by Lightning—When the heavy thunder storm broke yesterday a bolt of lightning struck the trolley pole of car No. 306 on the Hamilton line of the Pittsburgh Railways Company on the Scho hill above Brady street. There was a loud report, followed by a blinding flash of light. The car was well crowded at the time and while no person as injured all were badly scared. The car had to be pushed to the barn, as the motors were completely burned out.

The Tolliver Got Out—Services were held yesterday in the Methodist Episcopal Zion Colored church, in Independence street, West End, as usual, a compromise having been effected between the congregation and George Tolliver and wife, who a short time ago moved into the church and refused to vacate. Tolliver was before Alderman Charles Vierheller Saturday night charged with forcible entry, and a decision was withheld till today to give him a chance to move out.

Who Knows George Dabisch?—The police were asked last night to make inquiry for friends of George Dabisch, who is said to be fatally hurt and dying in the jail at St. Clairsville, O. It was said he had a brother-in-law on the police force, but none of the men reporting last night had such a relative.

Palm Buried at Warren—Sullivan H. Palm, the traveling salesman who died of poison in the Boston house, was buried at his home in Warren, O., yesterday afternoon. The Rev. H. E. Cooke of that place officiated. Palm's relations are of the opinion that he was poisoned for the purpose of robbery. They have no idea who the woman was that accompanied him to the hotel last Thursday night. The detectives are still working on the case, but so far they have been unable to apprehend the woman who is supposed to have administered the poison.

AN OUTING THAT MEANS WORK.

St. Vincent de Paul Society to Swell Its Coffers on the Fourth.

The Cathedral conference of the St. Vincent de Paul society will hold its "annual outing" on the Fourth of July. The "outing" will be held as usual in Schenley park. It means that some of the most prominent lay workers of the Cathedral conference will sell cooling beverages and refreshments. The conference's stand will be situated on the main driveway.

President D. J. Donahoe and the various committees met yesterday, to conclude arrangements for the "outing." A petition, asking for supplies was drawn up and will be forwarded to the charitably inclined. Donations are to be sent to the Rev. Father Regis Canevin, D. J. Donahoe or James Caulfield.

The St. Vincent de Paul society, while connected with the Catholic church, is one of the organizations whose work is not limited to a sectarian line. Women and children of all denominations are supplied. Throughout the winter the conference supplies coal to scores of people, and gives weekly sums to widows with helpless children.

Growing girls and boys who exhibit signs of failing or impaired health, get robust from the persistent use of Dr. Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge.

Brainy Hair

Under your loose, thin, falling hair is a brain. Use it. The result? You will use Ayer's Hair Vigor. It checks falling hair, restores color to gray hair, and makes the hair grow. No need of having rough and unruly hair.

"At the age of 20 my hair turned gray and soon grew almost white. After I had been in this embarrassing condition for fifteen years, I used Ayer's Hair Vigor, and three bottles of it brought back the old color." — M. A. Knight, Baldwin, Mont.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Boston, Mass., June 15.—Pittsburgh will play its last game of the series here tomorrow, and unless Capt. Clarke's team wins, it will go home a loser on the present series away from home. So far they have split even.

The downfall of the champions on Saturday was due to the juggling of Pittinger. His slow balls upset the calculations of the visitors, as they were expectin gspeed. Then he had a "McGinnity raise" that was superb, while his curves were sharp and his drop had an anchor to it.

"Didn't hit," that's the way Capt. Clarke explains the defeat of yesterday. "Everybody is out to fight every inch of the way with a team that has won the prefix champion, and Boston made no exception to the rule.

Couldn't Hit Pittinger.

"Pittinger has been resting for the past week and put up a grand game. We didn't hit him and couldn't hit him, and that's all there is to it. Tomorrow we play the last league game before going home. The men are in fine condition and never played faster ball, and I don't see why we won't have an easy win. Tannehill or Doheny and Smith will probably work for us.

"The prospects for our landing another pennant are bright, and I see no reason why any other team has a right to win the championship unless all of the team goes lame. At present it is a long shot that Pittsburgh will be at the top of the heap when the season is over.

Tuesday we will play the Worcester club at Worcester. The next day we have a game with the Wilmington team and then go home and open with St. Louis."

"Fortune of War," Says Wagner.

The loss of yesterday's game did not disconcert the Pittsburghs a little bit. "It's the fortune of war," said big Wagner, as he lounged at the Quincy this afternoon. "And even a champion nine has to drop a game once in a while. I expect that we will trim these people good and hard tomorrow—that is if we have weather," and he glanced up at the leaden sky whence the drizzle was steadily falling.

Pitcher Philippe strolled up. He has a bruised thumb, which he examined solicitously.

Philippe's Sore Thumb.

"Anything serious?" he was asked.

"Pshaw, no," was the reply.

"It bothers me a bit at first when I am pitching, but when I get warmed up I forget all about it. That's how the Bostons got at me in the first inning yesterday."

Aside from the damaged thumb, and that is on the mend, the champions are in first-class physical condition. The managerial eye is ever upon them and no "breaking training" is allowed under any circumstances.

It is up to big "Vic" Willis to try and pull the game out of the fire for Boston today if he can.

ONE HIT OFF PITTINGER.

Champions Were Easy for Bostons. Failed to Connect With the Ball.

Charles Pittinger, who at one time pitched ball in a corner lot in Greensburg, took sweet revenge for the pounding given him by the Pirates at Exposition park last year on more than one occasion, by shutting the champions out on Saturday by a score of 8 to 0. The best Clarke's men could do was one hit in the entire nine innings, which was made by Deacon Phillippe.

There was nothing to the game but Pittinger, and how he mowed the Pirates down when they came to bat is now a matter of baseball history. Boston supported their star twirler well, playing an errorless game. Boston's three runs were made in the first inning, and after that neither team was able to reach the home plate. The score:

REDS WERE BEATEN.

Hoboken Unattached Team Made Cincinnati National Leaguers Bite the Dust.

NEW YORK, June 15.—The National league team from Cincinnati was beaten by the unattached Hoboken ball nine on the latter's grounds today in an exhibition game by a score of 6 to 2.

The Hoboken players did better work both in the field and at the bat and the heavy hitting won them the game. The score by innings:

DETROIT WON OUT.

Washington Could Not Hit the Deceptive Curves of Mullin.

DETROIT, June 15.—Mullin was in fine form this afternoon and pitched a splendid game. Washington's first run was the result of a passed ball, which followed a two-base hit that Harley should have caught.

A single by Coughlin and a three-base hit by Carey, after two were out in the ninth, scored the second run. Washington's six errors aided materially in Detroit's run-getting. Score:

FINISHED TRAINING.

Both Eddie Kennedy and Fred Broad Said to Be in Good Shape for Their Contest.

One of the best boxing matches ever arranged for this section is scheduled to take place in the Ohio river tonight shortly after 9 o'clock. The principals in the match are Eddie Kennedy and Fred Broad. The latter boxer is said to be a ringer under an assumed name.

Quite a little betting has been done on the contest, which promises to be a fierce from start to finish. It was intimated last night that Kennedy's opponent may be none other than Joe Walcott, and speculation is rife as to who the unknown really is.

The match tonight will be a 20-round one to a decision. Both boxers finished their training yesterday afternoon and are said to be in fit form to put up a fine contest. Broad is expected to arrive in Pittsburgh this morning with a crowd of backers, who are reported to have all sorts of money to wager on their man.

The seconds for Eddie Kennedy will be Billy Corcoran, the manager, and Jack McClelland, while Mull, Bowser and Charles Pugh will be in Broad's corner. Yock Henniger will referee the mill.

Arrangements have been made to accommodate a large crowd on the boat, which will have Corks till promptly at 8 o'clock. No preliminaries have been arranged for, and the big bout will be started in less than an hour after the boat leaves the wharf.

Among the Amateurs.

The E. W. Parquys of Vandergrift defeated the Apollo Maroons by a score of 14 to 4. For games address J. W. Stephens, Jr., manager, Vandergrift.

A game of ball full of many funny incidents took place yesterday between the married and single men of the Philip Flinn club. King's batting and Rowan's pitching were the features. The score was 29 to 9 in favor of the married men.

The South Side A. C. has changed its management. William Timmons was elected manager at a recent meeting and will give the team a shaking up. He has signed several new men. Would like to hear from Jamestown, Sharon, Monessen and Beaver Falls. Address William Timmons, care Heyl & Patterson, Allegheny.

The Primrose team has reorganized for the season and elected F. Murphy captain, with the following players: J. Strasser, A. Strasser, Cross, Foget, Murphy, Burtt, Bishop, Lagon, Mosier, Keenan and Walsh. Would like to arrange games with all strong teams in Eastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania. Address R. L. Foget, P. KIZIL-KOURGAN WON GRAND PRIX RACE BY HEAD

Finish in the Great Event Was Very Close and Interesting.

AMERICAN JOCKEYS LOST

Six of Them Had Mounts, but Not One Was Even Able to Secure a Place—Owner of Winner Congratulated by President Loubet.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Paris, June 15.—The Grand Prix de Paris of 200,000 francs, distance about one mile and seven furlongs, was won by M. E. De St. Alary's chestnut filly, Kizil-Kourgan. Camille Blanc's colt, Retz, and Baron Leonino's colt, Maximum, ran a dead heat for second place, while M. E. De St. Alary's colt, Arizona, was fourth.

Eleven horses ran and the race was won by a head. There were one and one-half lengths between Retz and Maximum and Arizona. R. S. Sievier's filly, Sceptre, Randall up, was never dangerous and ran sixth.

American jockeys were not successful in the contest. Six had mounts, but not one of them even secured a place. Americans at Longchamps lost considerable money on the horses ridden by J. Reiff and Henry. The former jockey was mounted on Logues, which was the third favorite at odds of 3 to 1 and which finished last. Throughout the day, however, the American riders rode three winners, five seconds and two thirds.

The racing began at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The contest for the Grand Prix was the fourth in the series. A shower came on just before it was run and resulted in the opening of numberless umbrellas, but luckily the rain ceased when the bell was rung for the start.

The horses got off to a good start at the first attempt. Arizona made the running and was followed by Kakimono, Logres and Olivarez. Upon reaching the middle distance Retz took third place and Kizil-Kourgan and Sceptre were together among the last horses which turned into the slope.

It looked as though Retz would win easily in the stretch and the crowd began to cheer when Kizil-Kourgan suddenly burst from the group and went after Retz. The struggle was a magnificent one and the crowd watched it with intense interest.

Kizil Kourgan won by a short head. The cheering continued although the victory was not a popular one. Retz and Maximum ran second. Arizona was fourth. Olivarez fifth and Sceptre sixth. A long distance behind Olivarez. The owner of Kizil-Kourgan, M. E. De St. Alary, was summoned by President Loubet and received from him the congratulations which are customary upon this occasion. The betting was as follows:

Kizil-Kourgan, 12 to 1; Retz, 5 to 4; Maximum, 25 to 1; Sceptre, 3 to 1.

PRIZE FIGHT ENDS IN A LIVELY ROW

Referee Gives Yutzy Decision Over Burgo, Who Mixed Up Matters Over the Result.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CUMBERLAND, MD., June 15.—The 20-round boxing contest between William H. Yutzy of Sand Patch and Walter Burgo of Altoona, lightweights, ended in a big row at Ravenscraft's opera house, Frostburg, just before midnight last night.

About 400 men were present. Both fighters began the first round in lively fashion, and it was hardly a minute before Burgo in a clinch landed on Yutzy's jaw. The latter's second vigorously protested and just after Yutzy regained his feet to continue the fight, Charles Keifer of Garrett, referee, gave the fight to Yutzy on a foul.

There had been an agreement between the men not to hit in a clinch. Burgo became infuriated and made a mad rush toward Referee Kiefer and Jimmy Reeder, the colored lightweight of Altoona, who was one of Yutzy's seconds, met Burgo with a blow on the eye. The latter declared at once that he would kill Reeder and proceeded to trounce him.

There became a mix-up of 30 or 40 men, some urging Burgo on and others attempting to restrain him. His arms were held, but he used his head as a battering ram and butted Reeder viciously in the face, breaking his nose.

In the meantime the wildest excitement prevailed and it was 10 minutes before it subsided. Reeder was placed under arrest. He is booked to fight Henry Williams of Cumberland at the same place on July 4.

Friends of Burgo lost $700 on the fight. The latter has deposited $50 for another fight with Yutzy.

NEW RECORDS MADE.

Kramer, Professional Cycler, and Amateur Riders Establish Fast Marks at Vailsburg Track.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEWARK, N. J., June 15.—Records were broken at the Vailsburg cycle track today. Kramer, professional, and Hurley, amateur, were penalized by the handicapper for the first time in this country, their recent work having been of such superior quality.

Today in the half-mile Kramer rode 880 yards in one of the heats in 55 seconds, beating the world's record of 55 2-5 seconds, made by P. O'Connor at Minneapolis in 1895. Kramer was timed as he crossed the scratch mark, his actual time for the half mile being 54 4-5. He also won the 10-mile open and created another world's record, making the distance in 22.10. The old record, held by Iver Lawson, was 22.35 2-5. Jose Orlando also made a world's record in the novice race, doing the quarter in :32 2-5.

Hurley penalized 20 yards in the one-mile handicap won his heat in 1:58 1-5, another record. He failed to score in the final. "Eddie" Bald made his reappearance and while he did not win, he captured one of the intermediate prizes. The summaries:

Half-mile, amateur, open—Won by M. L. Hurley, N. Y. A. C.; "Teddy" Bullington, N. Y. C. A., second; Fred Ernst, Rochester, third. Time 1:02 1-5.

Half-mile professional, handicap—Won by W. A. Bardgett, Buffalo, 40 yards; E. L. Kramer, East Orange, penalized 10 yards, second; Floyd Krebs, Newark, 40 yards, third. Time, :55 2-5.

Ten-mile, open, professional—Won by F. L. Kramer, East Orange; G. H. Collett, New Haven, second; J. B. Jacobson, New Haven, third. Time, 22.10.

One-mile handicap, amateur—Won by J. Zanes, Newark; Michael Coffey, Newark, second; C. W. Stabble, Brooklyn, third. Time, 1:39.

Youngstown Trotting Races.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 15.—(Special.)—The date of the Northeastern Ohio Trotting association races at Youngstown has been decided on for July 2, 3 and 4. The meet will be given under the auspices of the Youngstown Fair association and it is expected that it will be one of the most successful in the circuit. The entries close June 24.

FIFTEEN TO START IN DERBY RACE

HENO IS STILL THE BETTING FAVORITE AT ODDS OF 3 TO 1.

The Mackay Entry Is Looked on as a Sure Winner on a Good Track, but Event May Be Captured by a Long Shot.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, June 15.—The American Derby, one of the greatest turf events of the year, will be run at Washington Park next Saturday. Fifteen starters is a conservative estimate of the number of entries that will go to the post. The derby this year promises to outdo all races of former years, and much money will be won and lost on the race.

The winter books have been played heavily for the race and it is expected that the army of bookmakers at the track will do a great business on the day of the classic event.

While Heno, the Mackay entry, is by odds the favorite, it may be that a rank outsider will get the first share of the money. The talent this year is by far the best of any ever in the great race.

The stake will have a gross value of $25,825, and will be worth, net, to the winner, $20,575. In added money this is the richest stake in America, the club subscribing the share of the first horse. The owners contribute $5,825. Nearly everybody knows that Heno is the favorite, and that the great thoroughbred arrived in Chicago last Tuesday morning in a private car, with as much ceremony as has marked the arrival of some prominent men. They know that Clarence H. Mackay, New York millionaire, is spending several thousand dollars in an effort to win the derby, and that Arthur Featherstone, formerly of Chicago, and H. M. Zeigler of Cincinnati, two other wealthy men, are going to the same expense and trouble of sending their best horses to Chicago for the honor of owning the derby winner.

Heno is the natural leader of the field in the speculations on the result. His performances so far this year must be counted as better, if only slightly, than those of his prospective rivals. He has done one thing that made a hit with turfmen both east and west—that was his feat of gaining on Advance Guard in a stretch run and losing to that horse by only a head. He has demonstrated that he has speed. He has also shown that he can carry weight for a distance, but he has not yet carried the derby weight, a mile and a half. Some doubt is cast on his ability to do this.

On performance Heno's greatest rival from the east is Old England, owned by Green B. Morris. He has shown more derby quality in the matter of traveling a distance than most of the candidates, but this colt has practically been declared out of the derby.

Arsenal, although a much-advertised colt, has only one claim on the derby. He won the Metropolitan handicap and upset tradition by being the first 3-year-old to beat older horses in that event. In that race Arsenal carried a light weight, a fact that probably made it possible for him to win. He started a second time and was beaten in the Toboggan stakes by Old England. Since then Arsenal has been resting. He is in the hands of a shrewd trainer, Julius Bauer, and the fact that Mr. Featherstone thinks enough of the colt to send him to Chicago is the strongest recommendation that can be given his chances. His two races this year do not make him look like the probable winner, although it should be remembered that he may be better than he looks according to the "dope."

Following is the probable field in the derby, with owners, jockeys and estimated opening prices:

Horse and Jockey.	Owner.	Odds
Heno (Turner)	C. H. Mackay	3 to 1
McChesney (Winkfield)	S. C. Hildreth	3 to 1
Lord Quex (Shilling)	S. C. Hildreth	3 to 1
Cruzados (Ranson)	E. J. Baldwin	6 to 1
Arsenal (O'Connor)	A. Featherstone	6 to 1
Hermis (L. Jackson)	H. M. Ziegler	6 to 1
Gremlon	Milan & Co.	25 to 1
Fenfecost	J. E. Madden	25 to 1
Oom Paul	Jacob Worth	25 to 1
Wyth (Lynch)	John A. Drake	40 to 1
Pride's Comr (Knight)	J. B. Respess	40 to 1

COLLEGE CREWS ARRIVE.

Wisconsin Varsity and Freshmen Eights Land at Poughkeepsie in Good Shape.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 15.—With the arrival here this afternoon of the Wisconsin varsity and freshmen crews, all of the college oarsmen who are to take part in the regatta on the Hudson next Saturday afternoon are now on the ground, and tomorrow if the weather is favorable will witness the largest concourse of college crews that has ever gathered in this country in training at one place. All told there will be 16 crews on the river, representing six different colleges.

The Wisconsins arrived at Highland at 3 o'clock and unloaded their two shells, which were brought across the river and placed in the boat house. The men then took possession of Riverview academy, which will be their quarters.

Andrew O'Dea, the coach, while he did not talk freely about his men, said they are a very fair crew, and all in good condition and ought to make a creditable showing. Like nearly all the other coaches, he was disposed to minimize the chances of either of his crews winning a race.

There is a general feeling here, however, that Wisconsin has the strongest crew it has ever sent out, and if the race should occur tomorrow, the consensus of opinion as expressed tonight would make it and Cornell the favorites over the other crews for the race.

Coach Hanlon of Columbia concluded tonight that his crew stands very little chance of winning the 'varsity race unless the men make radical improvement within the next five days. Cornell, Pennsylvania, Georgetown and Syracuse spent a quiet Sunday. There was no rowing whatever.

WASH-JEFF PROFITS.

Baseball Team Cleared Over $150 on the Season.

WASHINGTON, PA., June 15.—(Special.)—During the baseball season just closed, W. & J. played 22 games, winning 15 and losing 12. One cause of satisfaction is that for the first time in years the season has been successful financially.

Manager Stevenson stated today that he had cleared about $150 on the season and that if the game with the alumni is played during commencement week the earnings of the season will be increased considerably.

Graduates and Students Listen to Good Words in Baccalaureate Sermon.

FESTIVE DAYS FOLLOW

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WOOSTER, O., June 15.—The annual baccalaureate sermon to the graduates of Wooster university was delivered by President Louis E. Holden, D. D., this afternoon before an audience that crowded the new Memorial chapel. He had as his theme, "Individual Responsibility." The annual address to the Y. M. C. A. was delivered tonight by the Rev. A. C. Ludlow, D. D., of Cleveland, before an audience that crowded the First Presbyterian church to the doors.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., June 10.—Before a vast congregation in Commencement hall at West Virginia university this morning, the Rev. Frank Bristol, D. D., of Washington, preached the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class. Dr. Bristol also preached at the university this evening at a service held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

The contest in declamation open to preparatory students for the regent's prizes which took place last night resulted in a victory for James H. Caillson. John U. Baker won the second prize and Franklin M. Brand, third.

With six professors to be elected this week the regents of the university have received less than that number of applications for all places. President Purinton will advise higher salaries.

BETHANY, W. VA., June 15.—The baccalaureate sermon of Bethany college was preached today by the Rev. Richard W. Abberly of Columbus. The annual address was made this evening by President T. E. Crambiett.

The graduates are: Henry Bowman, Ohio; Daisy S. Cooper, Pennsylvania; William H. Erskine, Pennsylvania; George B. Emmons Nebraska; J. F. Green, Michigan; Frank J. Kent, Ohio; Evelyn A. Mulholland, West Virginia; Howard W. Oldham, Ohio; J. E. Shronitz, Pennsylvania; Ethel W. Streator, Tennessee; Frithena C. Smith, Pennsylvania; L. M. Wells, Pennsylvania. Post-graduates: William W. Long, Bethany; Bismark S. Moore, West Virginia, and Charles E. Smith, Bethany.

PAINESVILLE, O., June 15.—(Special.)—The Rev. John P. Jones of Madura, India, preached the baccalaureate sermon of Lake Erie college this afternoon. Miss Mary A. Davis of Pittsburgh is one of the graduates.

GREENVILLE, PA., June 15—The Rev. Theopolis B. Roth, D. D., president of Thiel college, delivered the baccalaureate address to the members of the graduating class in Trinity Lutheran church tonight. The members of the senior class have created a fund from which $25 will be given each year to the winner of an oratorical contest, to be held February 22.

ALLIANCE, O., June 15.—Annual commencement at Mt. Union college began with formal graduating exercises Saturday evening. This morning the college love feast was held, followed by the baccalaureate sermon by President A. B. Riker. This evening the Rev. R. A. Carnahan of the First Presbyterian church delivered the annual sermon to the students' Christian associations.

Miners Became Detectives.

ALTOONA, June 15.—(Special.)—Following up the report that the big non-union coal companies operating in this field are violating the boycott declared by the union miners in shipments destined to all anthracite coal markets, the officials of the union decided on a unique method to discover the truth. Coal trains over the Pennsylvania east are being shadowed, one or more miners' detectives accompanying the trains as tramps.

Johnstown Church Dedicated.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., June 15.—(Special.)—The Grove Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, one of the most magnificent in the city, was dedicated today by Bishop John W. Hamilton, D. D., of San Francisco, Cal. At 2 o'clock this afternoon the Rev. Dr. Charles W. Smith, editor of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate, preached in the Grove Avenue church.

Drowned in Abandoned Mine.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, PA., June 15.—(Special.)—Harry Hoop was drowned in an abandoned ore mine hole near here. It is a favorite swimming ground of Holidaysburg boys despite the fact that the water is as cold as ice water, and there are openings at the bottom of the pools through which the swimmers may be drawn down 500 feet.

Boy Commits Suicide.

CUMBERLAND, MD., June 15.—(Special.)—James Whitacre, aged 15, committed suicide yesterday by hanging, because of ill health. Placing a rope in a noose around his neck and tying the other end to a beam in the barn, he leaped out of a second-story window.

HIS SPEECH RETURNS AFTER FORTY YEARS

WASHINGTON, PA., June 15.—(Special.)—James Andrews, aged 65, of Morris township, who has been unable to talk for nearly 40 years, yesterday suddenly started a conversation with members of the household. Andrews lost his speech and hearing through an attack of scarlet fever, and it was believed also that he had lost his mind. A few weeks ago he was attacked with erysipelas and it is believed that this cured his deafness.

EX-SUITOR ARRESTED.

Bert Anderson Is Charged With the Murder of Mary Quinn at Scranton.

SCRANTON, PA., June 15.—Bert Anderson, a stonemason, was arrested tonight on suspicion of being the murderer of Mary Quinn, who was found dying in a lonely field in Keyser valley two weeks ago.

It was known that he was a rejected suitor for the hand of Miss Quinn and that she had warned another girl not to go out with him, as he was "rough." When it was noticed that he was the only person in the community who did not go to the Quinn house or the scene of the crime after the murder and that he avoided crossing the field, as was his wont, when going to and from work, suspicion began to point to him, and the police put him under surveillance.

His arrest is the result of his having told that he was in bed at 9 o'clock the night of the murder, when the police have it from reliable witnesses that he came home by a back way at 11 o'clock the night of the crime.

Builders' Strike Postponed.

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 15.—(Special.)—After an exciting meeting the New Castle trades and labor assembly today decided to postpone the contemplated strike of the building trades union from tomorrow until Thursday morning. This course was advocated by the carpenters' union, which is nearly 300 strong. In the meantime the master plumbers are to be given one more chance of settling with the journeymen plumbers, who demand an increase of from $3 to $3 50 for an eight-hour day.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

The ninth annual reunion of the Welsh of the Mahoning valley will be held at Youngstown on August 14.

At a meeting of the New Brighton council it was decided to pave the sidewalks on several streets and to spend about $8,000 in building sewers.

The plumbers' strike at Youngstown has been settled and the men will return to work today. The men receive the eight-hour day and the same rate of wages as last year, $3 50.

The Imperial Glass Company of Beaver Falls, manufacturers of bottles for druggists, has decided to double the capacity of its plant here by adopting the continuous tank system and running double time.

The Claysville, Pa., school board has decided to issue bonds in the amount of $28,000 for improvement. The five teachers and a principal, who are to be elected today, will receive an increase in salary.

The street fair held at Washington last week under the auspices of Hancock lodge, Knights of Pythias, was a big success. Saturday proved to be the most successful day in the week. The knights realized a big profit.

IX THOUSAND PEOPLE WORSHIP IN SCHENLEY

e Rev. S. Edward Young olds the First Open Air Service of the Season.

E TENT WAS TOO SMALL

Park Sisters of New York and a Trained Choir Furnished the Music—Services Will Be Held in the Park Each Sunday.

The swelling strains of "Nearer, My d, to Thee," played by four cornet- s, floated over Schenley park last it, drawing throngs of religiously ined persons to the neighborhood he band stand, and soon the voice he open-air preacher calling to sal- ion was heard ringing through the It was the first open-air religious rvice of the season held in Schen-

Encouraged by the number and the ttitude of the listeners, the promoters el confident that success will follow eir efforts, and that the good which, ey believe followed in the wake of the eetings of the two previous years will ontinue to animate the gatherings this ummer. Six thousand persons attended st night.

The storm of the afternoon and the threatening aspect of the skies in the early evening were considered as premonitions of the necessity of using the new snow white tent reared alongside the meeting grounds. The tent was erected chiefly for the "after meetings" of 15 minutes' duration, the services that follow the regular open-air meetings, but it is expected to use it when rain would otherwise break up the gatherings. The new tent was dedicated last night, and it was feared for awhile that it would be baptized as well. But the expected rain stayed away, and a more perfect evening for the occasion could not have been made. A slight breeze curled the tree tops, tempering the warm humid air to a pleasant degree.

Inspiration for the Preacher.

There must have been inspiration to the Rev. S. Edward Young while delivering the word of God, for he preached to unknown multitudes. The light focussed from the rows of electric lights arched over the platform, while casting its beam far, but dimly lighted up the faces in the middle background, while behind those lurked masses of darkness, still more auditors, flecked with patches of white headgear that differentiated those masses from so much shrubbery, which they resembled from that distance.

The congregation might have been in church, so perfect was the devotion shown, aside from a few gigglers on the extreme outer edge of darkness. During the preaching there was no moving about and the preliminary plea for decorum made by the minister was faithfully observed. One would not have been surprised at applause for the music from some forgetful enthusiasts, but the audience remembered it was in church and behaved accordingly.

The Park sisters, four cornet players, especially brought on from New York for that one occasion, filled the chief portion of the music program, accompanied by Samuel Brown, the organist of the Rev. Mr. Young's church, the Second Presbyterian. Several numbers were sung by the choir of the church under the direction of B. F. Butts, the choirmaster.

Preparatory to the regular service the Rev. A. H. Kaylor, the evangelist, delivered a brief exhortation. The sermon of the evening was preached by Mr. Young. His text was II. Kings, 10:15: "Is Thine Heart Right?"

Heart Is Everything.

"Heart is everything," he began. "Fill the world with music, but discord within you will turn the whole into dirge. Daub a man's reputation so black that charcoal would leave a white mark on it; yet a noble heart will shine through, as at Constantinople inside St. Sophia mosque shines the old-time golden cross despite Mohammedan paint smeared thick. To know your inmost motive is true is to life's twists and whirls what the extra guard-rail around the street car track curve is to the car's safety. Can you stand Sheikh Johonadab's test—willingness to give up anything in order to be character-clean? Cities—how Samaria and Jezreel reveled in luxuries!—yet, rather than taint himself and his household with their vices, he tented amongst the rocky scarps. Intoxicating beverages—what a delirium of delight they offered him—still, if they darkened his brain and his soul, he would, he did, forswear them forevermore. A sign hereabouts advertises that a certain brand of whisky has been stored several years. I like the idea. Keep your whisky a long time—say till 2502 A. D."

Continuing, Mr. Young said that to be fired by an all-consuming enthusiasm for some good cause helped to preserve one pure. No doubt the zeal of Jehu, the propounder of the text, had preserved him while it lasted. Every one needed that fierce conviction which devours the old self. The brass-art heart was not right, for it mixed good intentions with villainy and then boasted of its good intentions. The brutal heart was not right, and cruelty and evil yearnings lurked beneath many a fine exterior. A beautiful stone on the edge of an elegant lawn concealed worms, slugs and other vermin, and it was a parable of the side men see and the side God sees of human nature.

"Think," he went on, "think of the people who have just enough religion to render them miserable! Half the Almighty's and half the devil's is the ideal condition for purgatory in this present life. Who can make a heart right? God alone. Heed Jehovah saying: 'I will put a new heart within you, and I will take the stony heart out.' Quit trying to gloss over your trouble. Quit dallying with partial remedies. You will never be at rest, you will never be strong and joyous until you plead and plead and pass yourself over to God, crying: 'Create in me a clean heart, Oh, God, and renew a right spirit within me!'"

The open-air services closed with music by the Park sisters and singing by the choir, and the meeting adjourned to the tent hard by. It was, of course, impossible to find room in the tent for the enormous crowd, although it was built to accommodate 1,000 and there were fully 1,000 persons under the canvas. The Park sisters played again and Mr. Butts sang a hymn. The Rev. Mr. Kaylor recited a brief prayer dedicatory of the tent to the service of God, and then Mr. Young spoke for a few minutes, urging those of his hearers who were not active members of any church to come to Christ.

During the big meeting free tickets were distributed entitling the bearer to admission to the Second Presbyterian church to see the stereopticon exhibition of views of Palestine from photographs taken by the party with which Mr. Young traveled some weeks ago. This exhibition will be given Wednesday evening.

The Rev. Mr. Young announced that services would be held every Sunday evening until the beginning of August, and on the first two Sundays in September. On July 13 services will be held in all the parks, Schenley, Allegheny and the parks of the traction company.

PIONEER CHURCH IN A NEW HOME

MIFFLIN TOWNSHIP UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH DEDICATED.

Impressive Ceremony Celebrated Yesterday—Strong Proof of Development of Spirit of Christianity Is Pointed Out by the Rev. James M. Wallace.

An impressive ceremony, filled with the memories of a hundred years, marked the dedication yesterday morning of the new Mifflin Township United Presbyterian church. The Rev. Dr. James M. Wallace, pastor of the Eighth church, preached the dedicatory sermon, in which he touched on the memories of a century of Christian work in that township under the auspices of the United Presbyterian church. There was an unusually large gathering, many coming from distant parts of the township. In the course of his dedicatory sermon Dr. Wallace said:

This marks a memorable epoch in the history of United Presbyterianism in Western Pennsylvania. The old home of the church in these parts may be gone, but the spirit lives and will live for all time in this newest structure which you have erected. The Mifflin township church is the "pioneer" church of United Presbyterianism in these parts. With it is connected all the sacred coincidences of Christian development in Western Pennsylvania. It is a landmark, a memory of the old forms and a "pioneer" of the newer and greater development of Christian work which began with the formation of the United Presbyterian church.

The erection of a new edifice is a standing proof that progress is being made, that the spirit of Christianity is developing encouragingly. In this instance it proves that the principles of the United Presbyterian church have taken deep root in this township. It is the part of the church to always forge ahead, and as it grows to take in under its saving wing the great world without.

Your growth in the past years is but one of the many similar sights seen wherever earnest Christian workers are found. The results may not come for years, but eventually God draws through His minister. In this happy hour, with the memories of a hundred years of Christian work looming before us, let us be grateful and pray for an abundance of blessings on our future work.

The Lebanon Presbyterian church dispensed with its regular Sunday service to join with the Mifflin church in its services, and the pastor, the Rev. S. T. Montgomery, presided at the evening exercises. There will be revival meetings at the new church every night this week.

The new church is situated on the brow of a hill about three-quarters of a mile from Lincoln Place, and overlooks one of the richest farming districts in that part of the country. It is a buff brick edifice and cost $5,000. The dedicatory exercises of yesterday were but the forerunner of still more interesting exercises that are to be held early in the fall in connection with the centennial celebration of the founding of this church. The program for this event is to be announced later.

The Mifflin church is known as the "pioneer" in church work of Western Pennsylvania. Its history is intricate, embracing the history of religion in two counties and the numerous integrate parts of Presbyterianism prevalent in this region from 1660 until the formation of the Associate Reform church, in 1858, into the present United Presbyterian church. It was organized in 1803 by the Associate Reformed Presbytery of Monongahela, and on the formation of the United Presbyterian church became known as the Mifflin Township United Presbyterian church. The first pastor was the Rev. Joseph Kerr. He was followed by the Rev. Samuel Weir of Ireland. Other pastors were the Rev. J. J. Buchanan, the Rev. H. C. McFarland, the Rev. J. D. Glenn, the Rev. C. B. Hatch, the Rev. Mr. Hunter, the Rev. R. R. VanFossen. The present incumbent, the Rev. S. F. Montgomery, assumed charge in 1896. There are about 200 families in the church.

COMFORT IS HAD IN ABSOLUTE DEPENDENCE

The Rev. Dr. Meloy of Chicago Discourses on "The Lord That Is Faithful."

In the Fourth United Presbyterian church last night the Rev. Dr. W. T. Meloy of Chicago preached from the text "The Lord That Is Faithful," from the writings of the Prophet Isaiah, who was ever endeavering to impress the fact that God is always to be relied upon. Dr. Meloy spoke in part as follows:

"We, my Christian friends, do not realize the comfort we receive from an absolute dependence on God's word. Think for a moment of a world, a universe, sustained by one mighty arm. Let it be withdrawn, let it for a moment relax its hold, and all the theories of scientists will go to naught, the great universe will fall to atoms.

"Men fail because their power, their strength is limited. I don't believe there are any Christians in the world able to tell from memory the specific promises of the Word; yet we ought to have many of these well defined. But it is not necessary that we know everything. It should be sufficient for us to know that God has promised, and that He is 'the Lord that is faithful.'

"Jesus is our model; the most perfect model a man may have. We should look up to Him always, at morning, noon and night; we should compare our own frail canvas with the great Model, the Son of God."

CELEBRATION AT BRADDOCK.

English Lutherans Observe Twelfth Anniversary of Church Dedication.

The congregation of the First English Lutheran church, Braddock, the Rev. William J. Bucher, pastor, celebrated the 12th anniversary of the dedication of its present church edifice yesterday with three special services, and a service by the Christian Endeavor society.

At the morning worship the pastor, with the assistance of a half dozen visiting clergy, received into membership 25 new members and administered the rite of infant baptism, which was followed by the Lord's Supper.

In the evening several ministers of the denomination from the Pittsburgh district made short addresses. The present church succeeded a church built about 18 years ago, when the congregation was first formed, under the pastorate of the Rev. Charles Reinewald. The congregation is practically out of debt.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON HEARD BY W. U. P. MEN

Rev. Dr. R. M. Russell Talks of Theology as a Science to Graduates.

SEEKING GOD'S KINGDOM

Interesting Service Yesterday Morning at Sixth U. P. Church—Differences Between Natural Science and Theology Pointed Out.

The Sixth United Presbyterian church, East End, was crowded yesterday morning with friends of the graduating class of the Western University of Pennsylvania to hear the baccalaureate sermon delivered by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Robert M. Russell. The graduates, 26 in number, representing the collegiate and civil engineering departments, were present, clad in cap and gown. Prof. John A. Brashear, acting chancellor, and Daniel Carhart, dean of the engineering faculty, occupied prominent places in the pulpit.

One of the most interesting of the graduates is a young colored man, just rounding out his teens. He is James Wiley, graduate of the civil engineering class. "I can say without disparagement to the other graduates," said Prof. Brashear, "that this young man is one of the brightest in the class. He has been uncommonly studious and his being here today is the result of earnest application."

In the course of his sermon Dr. Russell said:

Complex Activity Involved.

Seeking the kingdom of God involves a complex activity. If there is a kingdom, then there is a King to be known and loved; there are laws to be understood and obeyed; there is attainment to be made, tasks to be accomplished and rewards to be shared with those who join us in seeking the kingdom. What this complex activity in seeking the kingdom is, constitutes the message this morning, not only to those who, from doors of university training, view fields of opportunity in the wide, wide world, but to all who are seeking to make the most of life and attain its loftiest end. As a means of fastening upon your minds the outline of our complex duties in seeking the kingdom, permit me to quote those terse and telling lines of Dr. VanDyke:

"Four things a man must learn to do,
If he would make his living true:
To think without confusion clearly,
To love his fellow-man sincerely,
To act from honest motives purely,
To trust in God and heaven securely."

To think without confusion clearly, is an essential of the true life. While philosophy cannot solve the mystery of existence, and while the world by its wisdom has never found God, it is still true that the intellect of man is one of his noblest endowments, and that in the religious life emphasis needs to be laid upon mentality. Intelligence enters into all that concerns man's true development.

Science vs. Theology.

In natural science we trace God's method in world-making, and think His mechanical and chemical thoughts after Him. In religion we follow the work of God in the higher and spiritual realm, thinking His thoughts after Him in His self-revelation and redemption.

Theology is, therefore, as truly a science as geology, chemistry or astronomy. Religious faith is not what a precocious boy termed it, "Believing what we know is not true;" it is rather an apprehension of the greatest facts of existence, God and Christ and human destiny through grace.

Clear thinking will save you from the mistaken view that science is man's widest realm of thought, and that when you have mastered certain details of physical science, you have reached the limit of human knowledge. Science is confined to a limited sphere, as compared with the domain of religion.

Science has to do with such questions as what, when, where and how; religion takes up the deeper question, whence, why, whither. He who attempts only a scientific study of the universe is as narrow in his view as one who looks upon a loaf of bread with thought only of form and size, and chemical constitution.

At the university chapel at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon there will be a public reading of engineering theses. The class day exercises will take place at the chapel tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and the commencement exercises will take place Thursday evening in the Pittsburgh Carnegie music hall.

Weekly Review of Market Quotations

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Hay and Grain Firm—Sugar Active—Old Potatoes a Little Easier.

Summary for Last Week.

In nearly all departments of the hay and grain markets the week closed with a strong tone apparent, the exception being in bran. Receipts of spring wheat bran have had a weakening effect upon the situation, causing quotations to decline. Oats are stronger than they were a week ago and prices have advanced. Corn, while less firm than oats, has adhered to figures in force last Monday, both for ear and shelled. Hay has increased in strength, good timothy commanding full prices.

Changes in the grocery market were made early in the week, since when there has been little to chronicle. Sugar has been weaker for a day or two, but an advance at the mills quickly caused a reaction to quotations with which the week opened, and those figures now prevail.

Sugar advanced five points throughout the list, causing retailers to appreciate the fact that the season of heavy demand and strong prices is at hand. Canned goods were a shade more active. The small advance already made is accepted by jobbers as an indication of what may be expected, and higher figures will be made before many long. Green and package coffee declined a half cent, the decline not having affected bulk coffee. Navy beans are unchanged but firm.

The Garden Truck Department.

Old potatoes gained steadily in prices all week until Saturday, when a slight reaction occurred, track prices going backward. New potatoes are lower than at the beginning the week, with the market well supplied. Apples show no change. Cabbage has declined considerably. Fresh tomatoes have been steadily going down all week, reaching the lowest point on Saturday, dealers are expecting to see heavy stocks clean up and a reaction take place. Green corn and string beans are cheaper than at the opening of the week. Peas are more plentiful and have declined. Watermelons and cantaloupes are both offering at prices considerably lower than those which ruled a week ago. Southern peaches are in the market and raspberries have commenced to arrive. Blackberries, which have been coming forward in occasional lots for a few days, are now sufficiently regular in their arrival to be quoted, while huckleberries are in slightly increased receipt and are a little lower. Strawberries are not so thick as at the beginning of the week, but maintain firm prices for the time of year; they have not been so abundant as usual this season, and will likely be at their height this week. Cherries are unchanged.

There is little change in tropical fruits. California cherries were easier in the early part of the week, but regained some of the lost ground, though still offering under figures of last Monday. California peaches are expected to arrive in a few days.

In the Butter and Egg Line.

Butter went off a half cent last week for creamery, and any decline much refined today, though this is not certain. Country roll is coming in very freely and is lower. Cheese is much firmer at factories, though no local changes have occurred. Eggs are not in heavy receipt, but the warm weather of the last few days has made the demand very slow. Quotations are being maintained, supply and demand being fairly equalized; and arrivals today will determine the status of the market for the opening of this week.

The only change in the poultry situation is a decline in spring chickens, many of the arrivals being small in size. Spring ducks are now in heavier receipt, and are quoted at prices above those for old ducks.

The provision market stands steady, no change being made in prices for hams, breakfast bacon, dry salt meats or dry smoked meats. Pure lard was advanced an eighth and compound declined a quarter.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania lines, 1 car hay, 8 cars oats, 1 car corn, 1 car wheat, 1 car feed; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 2 cars hay; Pittsburg & Lake Erie railroad, 2 cars hay; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 2 cars oats. Total receipts, 20 cars.

PERSONAL.

PERSONAL—I wish to inform the public—That until recently my wife and I quarreled every day and I always compromised by letting her have her own way. Now we live like two little canary birds. Why? We are using SATISFACTION COFFEE and it makes everybody reasonable and agreeable, costs one-fourth what your fancy, high-falooting, titled coffees do and pleases everybody, that's why it is called SATISFACTION COFFEE—Signed, SIMON PURE.

PERSONAL—Theodore Low de Vinne, the highest authority in this country on composition and typography, condemns unwarranted abbreviation. Mr. Pearce, an English authority, regrets the injudicious use of different styles of lettering and the sham relief of shaded letters. This and more is to be known when good lettering is done. NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS—Sealed proposals will be received by the school board of the school district of the borough of Bellevue until Thursday, June 19, 12 o'clock m., for all work and material required in the construction of a 9-room school building on the corner of Grand street and Jackson st.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check for $1,000, payable to Truman S. Morgan, secretary of said board, to secure the execution of contract if bid be accepted. The successful bidder shall be required to furnish a trust company bond in the sum of $8,000 to insure the faithful performance of the contract.

Plans and specifications may be seen at the office of W. T. Shaw, architect, 516 Smith building, Pittsburgh, or at the Bellevue National bank, Bellevue.

Each proposal to be addressed, "Proposal for Erecting Third Ward School Building," Bellevue, Truman S. Morgan, secretary, 612 Ferguson building, Pittsburgh. The board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.
ANDREW S. MILLER, President.
TRUMAN S. MORGAN, Secretary.

PROPOSALS—The school board of the borough of West Homestead will receive bids up to Monday, June 30, 1902, at 4:30 o'clock p. m., for sale of 30 school bonds each of $1,000 par value, falling due from June 2, 1907 to June 2, 1921, interest 4 per cent. Free from all taxes. Certified check of $250 must accompany bids. Sale to be wholly closed and proceeds paid to school board within 20 days after bid is accepted or said check forfeited to school district. The school board reserves the right to reject any or all bids. Bids must exclude accrued interest. A. F. Leuschner, president of school board, Homestead, Pa.

NOTICE—The board of inspectors of the Western penitentiary will receive proposals until 1 p. m., June 23, 1902, for furnishing the penitentiary with fresh meats and drygoods; specifications, with details, furnished at the prison. Drygoods must conform to samples exhibited. The board reserves the right to reject any or all bids. W. McC. JOHNSTON, Warden.

GENTLEMEN'S LIST.

KLONDIKE GOLD DEVELOPMENTS GROW BETTER

This Season's Output Promises to Eclipse Great Record of Last Year.

CONSUL SAYLER'S VIEWS

Pennsylvanian Has Visited the Workings and Sees the Results—Coal Has Been Found to Replace High-Priced Wood Fuel.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., June 15.—Ex-State Senator Saylor of Montgomery county, Pennsylvania, now United States consul at Dawson City, forwards to the state department the following report showing the conditions in that section now:

The development of the Klondike has been largely due to the enterprise and capital of our own people, about 70 per cent of the population being Americans.

Much work has been done on the creeks this year, and, notwithstanding reports to the contrary, the output of gold promises to exceed that of 1901, which amounted to over $20,000,000. The statement that a business panic prevails in Dawson and that the miners are deserting the creeks is also false. From personal investigation I am able to say that the business men of this community have the utmost confidence in the future of the territory, and are making preparations for a busy season.

I have, within the past few weeks, visited all the creeks on which the principal mining claims are located, to-wit: Bonanza, Eldorado, Dominion, Sulphur, Gold Run and Hunker, and I find that mining operations are progressing satisfactorily and are being conducted with modern machinery and improved methods, resulting in a much larger output of pay dirt than in former years. Mining men generally with whom I have conversed regard the outlook as very promising, and expect that the clean-up of the present season will compare favorably with the best of previous years. The old method of thawing the ground by wood fires and hoisting the dirt by means of the hand windlass is being rapidly discontinued, and the steam thawer and automatic lift and bucket are rapidly taking its place.

The mining interests of this territory have been greatly unsettled for the last year, owing to concessions granted by the government at Ottawa providing for the absorption of many of the valuable claims and closing all lapsed claims to relocation by the individual miner, as well as water rights for mining purposes. One of the largest was the Treadgold concession, granted to Malcolm H. Orr Ewing, A. N. C. Treadgold and Walter Barwick. By the terms of the original order the concession granted the applicants all claims on Hunker, Bear and Bonanza creeks and their tributaries, and all the water in the Klondike river, amounting to 225,000 miner's inches a minute, as well as all claims that had lapsed prior to the 1st of June, 1902 (embracing at least 3,000), and all the water in the creeks tributary to the Klondike, with the exclusive right to sell water at $1 an inch. This price was subsequently reduced to 25 cents a miner's inch.

The concession created great discontent among all mining and business interests of Dawson, and the commissioner of the territory, the Hon. James H. Ross, made a trip to Ottawa to have it modified. As a result of the agitation the most objectionable features have been rescinded.

Wood, on which the community has up to this time been entirely dependent for fuel, is becoming more scarce and expensive, the price during the last winter averaging $15 a cord, uncut and unsawed, making the cost to the consumer about $22 a cord.

Persistent search has been made for coal, and two mines are now successfully operated in the territory. The main shaft of one mine has reached a depth of over 135 feet, at which depth the frost line was passed. Careful tests have been made of the coal and it is found to be a lignite of good steam-producing qualities.

The other mine has reached a depth of 225 feet. The vein shows a fair quality of bituminous coal.

Some very rich strikes of placer gold have been made in the Eagle mining district on Chicken creek and other tributaries of the Forty Mile river, as well as in the Koyukuk mining district of Alaska.

In the Chicken creek claims the depth from the surface to bedrock is from 12 to 37 feet, and the muck covers the ground to from 6 to 20 feet; the pay gravel running from a few inches to 5 and 6 feet in depth and averaging from a few cents to as high as 40 cents a pan on some claims.

As a result of the above strikes in our own territory a large number of miners from this country are departing daily for the new fields and taking with them much improved machinery for working the claims.

What our people there chiefly need are good roads or means of communication from one camp to another.

DEMOCRATIC ROW IN WESTMORELAND

CHARGE MADE THAT TOO MANY VOTED AT THE PRIMARIES.

Attempt Will Be Made to Throw Out the Ballots in the Convention Today, and There Will Be Sport in Camp. Ruling to Fit Case.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.

GREENSBURG, PA., June 15.—A confusion of figures has resulted in the efforts of the friends of several of the candidates for the Democratic nomination to have their favorites counted in. There are in existence tonight two or three distinct lists of totals, kept by alleged expert accountants, and they exhibit entirely different results. It is estimated that there are 11,000 Democrats in the county, but not more than 5,000 votes were polled.

The friends of R. N. Gay claim to have figures to insure his nomination. D. A. Mowry of Derry, is nominated, but the politicians who made the fight against Gay insist that he is third man in the race, and that Mr. Funk is a winner. It is believed, however, that Gay and Mowry are the winners. Trouble is promised at the convention tomorrow. An effort is to be made to throw out alleged votes said tonight to have been cast for Mr. Gay.

At a recent convention of the Democratic county committee, a resolution was adopted that no more votes shall be counted for a candidate in any election precinct in Westmoreland county than were cast at the last presidential election. The reasons for the adoption of that rule, Capt. John B. Keenan and his friends explain, was for the purpose "of putting a stop to certain employers of large bodies of laboring men in certain parts of the county dictating the nominations of the Democratic party."

When an attempt is made to enforce the new rule at the meeting tomorrow trouble is certain to follow. The first district to be assailed, it is announced tonight, is Arnold, where 220 votes were cast for Gay and Mowry. It is alleged that there are not more than 20 Democrats in that vicinity.

The Gay people threaten to take the case into the courts should the convention, controlled unquestionably by Capt. Keenan and his friends, enforce the rule.

Late returns show conclusively that R. N. Gay and Daniel Mowry have been nominated for commissioners, according to the votes counted at the primaries.

MAGISTRATES HEARD NEARLY 200 CASES

Sunday Morning Hearings Yesterday Developed Several Interesting Cases and Some Heavy Fines.

At the police station hearings held in the two cities yesterday morning 186 cases were disposed of. Magistrate Bernard McKenna had 131 of these before him at the Pittsburgh Central police station, and he had the docket cleared in just 50 minutes after he mounted the bench. It was fast work for a warm morning. He discharged 48 of them, while the others paid light fines or went to the workhouse or jail. A score of these were men arrested for loaning on forbidden street corners in Fifth and Wylie avenues, and half as many more were found sleeping on the wharf. One of them, Charles Jackson, jumped into the Monongahela river to escape, but was fished out before he swam very far.

Alice Westby of No. 213 First avenue was charged with keeping a disorderly house and was arrested because of a letter sent to Superintendent John McAleese, which the magistrate allowed her to read. In it a man complained of being treated badly in her house, and signed his right name. She said she did not know anything about it, but did know the man. The woman paid a fine of $10 and costs and the 20 persons found in the place when the raid was made. Ten women and 10 men were fined $1 and costs each.

Daniel Shields paid $25 and costs. He threatened to clean out a Fifth avenue saloon and assaulted two men on the sidewalk. George Peck paid $10 and costs for beating a woman at No. 508 Third avenue.

William Wisniarski, Charles Golden and George McCarthy, Pittsburgh boys arrested in Allegheny Saturday afternoon, charged with stealing hams from a wagon belonging to the Pittsburgh Provision Company, were allowed to go by Magistrate Henry Hunneshagen upon the payment of costs.

Magistrate J. V. McMasters, at No. 3 police station in the Penn avenue district, had just 20 plain drunks to deal with. Saturday night was a great one out along Penn avenue. It was warm in more senses than one.

Magistrate J. H. Armstrong, at the Oakland station, fined John Tomask of Brady street $50 and costs for assaulting his brother because he refused to invite him to participate in the drinking of a keg of beer.

John Dugan and Anthony Hines, both of Fifth-seventh street, were fined $25 and costs each by Magistrate Samuel F. Kerr, at No. 5 station. When arrested on Saturday night the men had just completed stripping Daniel Bannan of his clothing and were about to carry it away. All were drunk.

BROKE AWAY FROM BUSINESS.

Employes of Two Financial Concerns Had a Jolly Time at Olympia.

The office employes of the Pittsburgh Bank of savings and the American Waterworks and Guarantee Company picnicked Saturday at Olympia park. The day was an ideal one, and the happy company enjoyed to the fullest extent the many beauties of this attractive park, and the various other entertainments provided for their pleasure. A game of ball between the "boys" of the two companies was one of the events of the day, and resulted in victory for the guarantee boys by a score of 12 to 10. Mr. Jones, treasurer of the bank, umpired, and operated the indicator like an old stager. James S. Kuhn, president of both companies, and his brother William S. Kuhn, were among the interested spectators.

After dinner, which was served on the piazza of the Colonial mansion, one of the handsome buildings with which the park is dotted, several of the picnickers repaired to the rooms in the mansion set apart for dancing, where an excellent orchestra furnished appropriate music; others enjoyed a very meritorious variety performance. The electric merry-go-round and roller coaster were not forgotten, but on the contrary, abundantly patronized. The picnickers voted the day a grand success, and the liberality of the companies in providing so amply for their pleasure was not forgotten. Mr. Van Wagner and Mr. McClelland of the guarantee company proved themselves able managers.

HELD UP AND ROBBED IN A CARNEGIE STREET

Bold Highwaymen Operated Twice in Most Daring Fashion on Saturday Night.

A daring "hold-up" robbery took place in Carnegie Saturday night. Samuel Franks, aged about 20 years, employed as a clerk in Charleson's grocery in Fourth avenue, was sent out about 10 o'clock to get change for a $20 bill. Frank had taken only a few steps when two men rushed on him from behind, grabbed him by the throat and gagged him. They took the $20 bill and several dollars in loose change, and then knocked the young fellow to the ground. They beat and kicked him in a terrible manner, until he was almost unconscious and bleeding in many places.

Franks finally managed to get to the store. Charleson went out to try and locate the men. In this he was partially successful, for he cornered a man who answered the description of one of the robbers, but the fellow got away.

The man was cornered in an alley, and when he saw that it was necessary to pass Charleson to escape he began throwing bricks, and later clinched with the groceryman. In the fight that followed Charleson was beaten up and the man escaped.

Charleson has a slight idea of who the man who attacked him is and claims there were one or two others in the affair. Young Franks cannot speak English very plainly, but he knows the man who took the money and could recognize him. All Franks could give as the man's name was "Mike."

To Atlantic City by Baltimore & Ohio railroad, June 19. $10.00 round trip, tickets good 16 days. Trains leave B. & O. R. R. depot, Smithfield and Water streets, 8 a. m., 6:30 and 9 p. m. Parlor cars on morning trains. Sleeping cars on night trains.

SUPPLY BILLS ADVANCED

Senate Will Vote on Isthmian Canal Measure on Thursday—House Will Dispose of Philippine Government on Wednesday.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, June 15.—The senate will meet at 11 o'clock each day during the present week up to and including Thursday to permit ample opportunity for discussion of the Isthmian canal bill prior to voting on the bill and amendments on Thursday. The four days preceding the vote will be crowded with speeches on the bill, the announcements made of intended remarks being unusually numerous. The supporters of the Panama route express great confidence in the success of the Spooner bill, which gives the administration power to choose the route.

Other measures which may be considered during the week if opportunity permits, are the London dock-charge bill and the pure-food bill.

A strong effort will be made to have the Cuban reciprocity bill in readiness to be made the unfinished business when the canal bill shall have been disposed of. It is expected that the Cuban committee will be prepared to report Wednesday or Thursday.

There is general agreement that but for the Cuban bill the final adjournment of the session could be secured at an early day. Only the general deficiency bill of the entire list of appropriation bills remains to be acted on in the first stage. With the passage of the District of Columbia bill by the senate yesterday that body disposed of the last of the supply bills on its calendar and as the house has the deficiency bill before it there is comparatively little to do in the way of getting the appropriation bills through.

Whatever time remains in the house on Monday, together with Tuesday, has been set aside for consideration of the bill to amend the bankruptcy act. Wednesday the general deficiency appropriation bill will be taken up and on Thursday consideration of the Philippine civil government bill will begin. On Tuesday the bill will be opened to the five-minute rule. The final vote will be taken on Wednesday.

WITH MILITARY HONORS.

Young Soldier Wounded in Philippines Buried at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, June 15.—The remains of Hamlet Jarvis, Jr., formerly a member of the Thirty-fifth Volunteer infantry in the Philippines, who was murdered two years ago by insurgents, were buried here today.

In October, 1900, Jarvis was one of several American soldiers who left Balinag as an escort to Jose Buencamino, president of San Miguel de Mayumo. The whole party was captured, taken into a swamp and assassinated with daggers. Subsequently two of the insurgent murderers, Timoteo Dhalan and Manuel Gonzales, were executed. Dr. Hamlet Jarvis, the father of young Jarvis, undertook a search for the body of his son, employing scouts and spending a great deal of money to that end. A few months ago he succeeded in finding his son's skeleton in a swamp and it was brought here for interment. The remains were buried with military honors by Company A, Fifth Maryland regiment, of which young Jarvis was a member during the war with Spain.

Many a distressed sufferer from Lung or Throat trouble, who had lost hope under the false idea that his disease was incurable, has been restored to perfect health by Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant.

Colonial Bureau

Colonial furniture has such a quaintly artistic individuality that it is best to furnish an entire room in this style wherever that is practicable. The simple yet refined beauty of the Colonial does not readily combine with the ornate.

Keep the extremes separate and you'll attain more artistic effects than if you undertook to equip your home irrespective of the dissimilarity of styles.

However, if you care to have a single piece distinctively different from the others, you'll hardly find one more pleasing, than the Colonial Dresser which is pictured in this advertisement. It's one of the designs brought out this season, and one of the most effective.

23 inches deep by 48 inches wide, with mirror 22 by 32 inches. Made of solid mahogany of richest quality, exquisitely finished—
